

SUSPENDED MASSILLON MAYOR GIVES HIS SIDE OF STORY WEDNESDAY

Defense Introduces Witnesses as Hearing Re-
opens Before Donahey

DENY ALLEGATIONS

Declare Nothing but Hear-
say Evidence Was Unearthed.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—That the City Council at Massillon was forced to start an investigation into law enforcement by Mayor Herbert H. Vogt, and his chief of police two years ago, during the mayor's first term, is the declaration of Oscar L. Kratsch, Massillon, clerk of the city park commission, who was the first witness called at today's hearing by Governor Donahey, relative to charges of failure to properly enforce the laws which have been filed with the governor against Mayor Vogt by Massillon citizens.

Kratsch called to the stand by the defense, testified that the investigating committee appointed by the City Council, found nothing but hearsay evidence tending to support the criticisms leveled against the mayor's administration. He said he had no knowledge of any booze selling.

Dr. C. E. James, Massillon, was the next witness called by the defense. He is Mayor Vogt's family physician. Dr. James testified that he saw no open violations of law on his trips around Massillon. During the examination by Assistant Attorney General Corn, James admitted he was a very busy man and did not have time to really investigate conditions.

Former State Senator Frank Norwood, Columbus, now prohibition enforcement officer, a former resident of Massillon testified he found normal observance of prohibition laws, at Massillon.

Evidence supporting charges against Mayor Herbert H. Vogt, Massillon, accused of not properly enforcing dry and anti-gambling laws, was completed late yesterday at the hearing being conducted by Governor Donahey to determine whether he will oust the mayor from office.

Those testifying against the mayor included Lawrence Larkin and Guy Steele, former policemen; Rev. Grant Perkins of the Wesley M. E. Church; Massillon; R. H. Kirk, of the second Presbyterian church; R. P. Pennell and John Powell, former investigators for the state prohibition enforcement department; Dr. H. F. Wagner, member of the Massillon city council, and R. H. Hickok former service director and acting chief of police at Massillon.

It is expected that Vogt's hearing will be completed today and that Gov. Donahey will immediately hear the cases of safety Director Ames, Police Chief Ertle and Lieut. Gillen against whom charges have been filed similar to those lodged against Mayor Vogt.

GASOLINE SUPPLY TO LAST 64 DAYS

Washington, Feb. 21.—Only 64 days supply of gasoline is now in reserve in the United States, W. C. Hill, petroleum economist of the U. S. bureau of mines, announced today.

On the other hand he pointed out, the expected increase may be decreased by a falling off in refinery operations.

London, Feb. 21.—Popular sentiment in the United States is opposed to mingling in European political affairs, it was declared here today by Charles M. Schwab, one of America's greatest manufacturing magnates and a close student of American opinion. Schwab said that, while Americans were willing to contribute money to relieve suffering abroad, they were disposed to let European nations work out their own problems.

JAPAN TO AVOID DISCORDS WITH UNITED STATES

Will Continue Policy of Keeping Away From Dangerous Issues.

PRESSURE IS USED

Government Will Make No
Effort to Change Present Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Despite tremendous pressure from influential sections of Japanese public opinion, the Japanese government will continue its policy of avoiding all issues calculated to stir up discord between Japan and the United States. It was learned officially today.

Ambassador Hanbara, the newly appointed representative of Japan, who has just arrived in Washington, will make no effort to change the treaty relations of the two countries when the 12-year-term of the present treaty expires in July, and the convention will automatically continue in force.

Having been a member of the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference, Ambassador Hanbara is peculiarly fitted for carrying out the American policies of Prime Minister Kato, who headed that delegation, and he is in thorough sympathy with the premier's program of cordial friendship and understanding with the United States.

Much opposition has been aroused in Japan against the terms of the existing commercial treaty, and a vigorous campaign is being conducted to force the Kato government to insist upon revision of its terms to permit Japanese in the United States to own land, to become naturalized, and in general to be received on the same basis as Europeans.

OVERSEER OF ZION CITY FACES TERM IN PENITENTIARY

Found Guilty of Charge of
Criminal Liable By
Illinois Jury

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion City, today faced the possibility of a term in jail. He was found guilty of criminal libel by a jury last night. Counsel for Voliva announced he would demand a new trial.

Six months imprisonment or a fine of $10,000 or both, is the maximum penalty that may be meted out to Voliva.

The criminal libel charge against Voliva was preferred by the Rev. Thomas Nelson, pastor of an independent church in Zion City. He accused Voliva of calling him a "billy goat," a "tom cat," and a "blather-skite," among other things in a pamphlet which Voliva distributed.

Voliva and Nelson have had a number of controversies. At one time Voliva contended that Nelson was attempting to displace him as overseer.

Hearing on a motion for a new trial has been set for March 10.

Schwab said that Europe had a misconception of America's wealth, adding:

"We who are supposed to be so wealthy have never been so poor. They talk about our having all the gold. I do not see it. Why I could double my income by retiring and putting my income in tax-exempt securities."

"The war wealth of the United States was mainly fictitious. It was lost in the deflation which followed the war. Taxation is the cause of much unemployment. American business men are so heavily taxed that

TWO HUNDRED POLES AND LITHUANIANS SHOT DOWN

Finding of Stolen Car Used by Thugs May Lead to Capture of Men Who Kidnaped Youthful Employee in Cincinnati.

London, Feb. 21.—Two hundred Poles and Lithuanians were killed and wounded in fighting in the neutral zone near Vilna, according to unofficial reports received today from Copenhagen.

These casualties were sustained in the fighting over the week end. No new clashes have been reported.

Great Britain has sent a communication to Kovno protesting to Lithuania against the arrest of British army officers south of Vilna. General Carton de Wiart and Major Grant of the British army were arrested while investigating conditions in the neutral zone. The British consul interfered and the men were released.

Paris, Feb. 21.—Russia has sent a note to Lithuania, giving definite assurances that the Soviet will aid the Lithuanians in their boundary dispute with Poland, according to information received by the French foreign office today.

The Russian communication was said to declare that "determination of the Polish-Lithuanian boundary without the consent of both countries would endanger the peace of Europe."

Russia contends in the note that the Riga treaty forbids the league of nations from fixing the Polish Lithuanian frontiers.

Copenhagen, Feb. 21.—Isolated bombardments by Lithuanian and Polish artillery were reported today from the Vilna district.

Lithuania is said to be massing troops on the Polish frontier near Breny, fifty miles west of Vilna, the former Lithuanian frontier. This railway was granted to the Poles by the league of nations over the protests of Lithuania.

POLICE ON TRAIL OF BANDIT TRIO WHO ROBBED MESSENGER

Fighting in Neutral Zone Near Vilna Over Week End Results In Many Casualties—Soviet Offers Support.

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—Finding by police of the stolen car used by three unmasked bandits yesterday to kidnap William Oberjohn, 16, bank messenger, from whom $8,500 was taken in a hold-up near the center of the business district, may lead to the apprehension of the trio, detectives said today. The car was found in Mount Adams, a suburb.

The youth was within a block of the Pearl Market Bank, by which he was employed when the robbers halted him and demanded that he surrender the satchel in which he was carrying the money. Upon his refusal one of the three struck him with a wrench, and the others threw him into the car.

"How much is there in the bag?" inquired the leader of the trio, as the car sped away.

"Nothing at all," Oberjohn replied as two of the bandits held him in the bottom of the machine.

A bottle of an anaesthetic liquid, held to his nose, soon made the boy unconscious. When he recovered his senses he was in a suburban street. He sought the nearest telephone and called the bank.

Another clue may develop as a result of information that three men in a car stopped near a restaurant in Carthage, a suburb, and covered the license tags on front and rear of the machine with strips of burlap.

The majority of the loot was in the form of bonds, the serial numbers of which bank officials have wired to authorities in all Middlewest cities.

MUMMY OF OLD EGYPTIAN KING NOT DISTURBED

May Not Remove it From Ancient Tomb as Protests Sent

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 21.—The mummy of Tutankhamen may remain in its 3,000 year old tomb in the Valley of the Kings and not be placed in a museum to satisfy the eyes of a curious world, it was learned today.

Lord Carnarvon, head of the Egyptologist explorers who uncovered the tomb, has been deeply moved by the protests from many parts of the world against disturbing the body of the ancient pharaoh and especially against putting it upon public view.

It is understood that Lord Carnarvon is considering the advisability of reproducing the sarcophagus and its inner shrine in wax, allowing the mummy to remain where it was placed by the Egyptian priests more than 1,000 years before the coming of Christ.

The inner chamber of the tomb was still open today. So far the leaders of the exploring party have not reached a decision as to when it will be closed. Scientists continue their investigations with growing wonder over the splendor of the art objects.

Inscriptions and religious objects are throwing much new light upon the burial rituals of the ancient Egyptian kings. Also they make revelations of the utmost historical importance upon the high degree of culture existent then.

Large numbers of foreign tourists continue to arrive. Most of them are content to look upon the tomb or to touch the ancient stones emplaced thirty centuries ago by the hands of Egyptian slaves. Some, however, give the scientists trouble by insisting upon a close view of articles taken from the outer chamber.

GOVERNOR VETOES BILL—DECLARING MEASURE CRUDE

Rag Sterilization Act
Might Cause Wrong
Prosecution

Columbus, Feb. 21.—Governor Donahey has vetoed the Evans bill which required sterilization of all rags sold to factories for wiping purposes. The governor held the proposed law was vague and crude and could result in prosecution of an innocent person.

The governor gave his approval to the Bender bill providing that any person furnishing poisonous liquor which causes another person's death may be convicted of murder.

Bills providing for a new division of the state into congressional districts were introduced by Senators Price, Summit County, and Bender, Cuyahoga. The bill seeking to reduce fatalities due to carbon monoxide gas poisoning, generated by gas stoves, heaters and other heating devices, is expected to be introduced today. Supported by state health officials, federal authorities and officers of gas companies and stove manufacturing concerns, the bill will provide regulations for installation of heating devices and prohibit such installations unless authorized by municipal building departments or health commission.

A resolution proposing amendment to the state constitution providing for a four year term for governor was introduced by Representative Rohe, Seneca County.

Other bills introduced provide for a chiropractic licensing board; four years term for county prosecutors; exclusion of spectators from courtrooms during trials when testimony affecting public morals is given; two years residence in Ohio before divorce suits can be filed and prohibiting divorces from remarrying within a year; permitting the state to collect 25 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, of the Crabbie dry law fines, except where the prosecution is conducted by the county prosecutor; protecting first mortgage holders when fines for liquor law violations are made a lien against real estate.

YOUTH WILL BE TAKEN TO STATE PRISON FRIDAY

Relates Actions on Night
Wilmington Officer
Was Killed

CONFESSES GUILT

"Not Feeling Very Good"
Over Prospects of Years
In Jail.

Sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for life for the murder of Emory McCree, Wilmington Policeman, more than a year ago, Louis Vandervoort, 21, scion of a wealthy family of near Jamestown, expressed himself Wednesday morning as "not feeling very good about the sentence," that faces him.

For the first time since his incarceration in the Clinton County jail, following the accusation of murder placed against him, Vandervoort talked freely to a reporter for the Wilmington News-Journal. The youth was sentenced Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge F. M. Clevenger, after he pleaded guilty to second degree murder, his first admission of the McCree murder, and will probably be taken to the Penitentiary to begin his sentence Friday. His cousin, Walter Bangham, 20, of Port William, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter at the same time was sentenced from one to 20 years in the Mansfield Reformatory, will be taken to that institution at the same time.

Vandervoort did not attend the trial of McKinney last summer, he told the Wilmington News-Journal reporter Wednesday. He said he was afraid to be seen around the court for fear he might "get his own neck into the noose." Vandervoort said he felt bad that McKinney was sentenced for the crime when he was not guilty, but that he was ignorant of legal proceedings and he was afraid he would get caught himself if he said anything in an attempt to save McKinney. However, he told the reporter, if McKinney had been sentenced to the electric chair, he would have confessed to the crime himself to save the innocent man.

Kept a Secret
Vandervoort was never on the point of giving himself up, he told the newspaper man, and would have kept his depositions a secret if he had not been caught. He denied absolutely having anything to do with the murder of Elvas Matthews, Xenia policeman, who was shot six times from ambush and killed here last December 21.

The youth described in detail his actions on the night McCree was killed. He said he wore a sheep-skin lined coat and a cap and Bangham had on a sheep-skin lined coat and a toboggan. He said when the officers discovered him and his cousin in the rear of the Murphy Benham hardware store that they talked a bit with the policemen, telling them they were looking for a dog, when asked concerning their presence in the alley. He said, however, that he was cornered, scared stiff and afraid he would get caught and that he thought the shooting was the only course. He said after firing he and Bangham ran to his machine drove around the square and went home.

RELEASE IS SOUGHT.
In the meantime steps are being planned in Wilmington to obtain the release of Roy "Mac" McKinney, 29, sentenced to life in the pen five months ago for the murder of McCree, after he had been found guilty by a jury in Wilmington, although he protested his innocence to the last. Proper legal measures will be followed in obtaining McKinney's release, which will probably be effected the last of this week. The Court of Appeals will be asked to review the case immediately and remand it to Common Pleas Court for a new trial, alleging error. The case will then be technically tried again Friday before Judge Clevenger, who sentenced McKinney, and he annul the sentence passed before. McKinney will be brought from Columbus to Wilmington.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Eczema is just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digesting torture and its soul-tearing, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. HARRY MERION, COLUMBUS, O.
Statement of Well-Known Local Man Explaining How He Built Up His Strength.

Harry Merion, fruit and vegetable salesman, of 411 East Mound Street, Columbus, in relating his experience with Ka-di-ok, says: "I have been seriously handicapped in my work the past two years with a severe case of rheumatism; attacks of indigestion and bloating pains were almost an everyday occurrence with me. I had to shun all kinds of fruits, as the acid always upset me; likewise all fried foods; even the simplest and plainest diet disagreed with me. No person in the world can hold up and make any kind of showing under these adverse conditions and I felt myself slipping and almost ready to quit. Just a few weeks ago, however, I was advised by a friend to try Ka-di-ok, which I purchased at Herpich's drug store, and have been taking it every day up to the present time. This Ka-di-ok has absolutely banished my stomach trouble and for the past week or two I have forgotten all about dieting and eat anything that appeals to me without any distress after it. My rheumatism has passed away and I am today in better physical condition than I have been in years. I have strength and confidence in myself to go after business, and enjoy my work now. Ka-di-ok is a splendid stomach remedy; it is in a class by itself."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism headaches, liver trouble, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv

LUTHERAN'S HOME TO GET BUILDING

Plans for the erection of a new administration building, at the Oesterlin Orphan's Home, located on the Mechanicsburg pike, at the outskirts of Springfield, and which is supported by 450 Lutheran Churches, in this district, were made at a meeting of the directors of the institution, held Tuesday at the Springfield Chamber of Commerce. The building will cost approximately $100,000.

Construction will be started as quickly as possible. Selection of a site is at present a difficult problem, the original plans being to erect the building on the present site of the administration building.

The churches in the district served by the Oesterlin home, include, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky, and part of the West Virginia and two churches in Tennessee.

INSURGENTS WIN OPENING ROUND OF FILIBUSTER

Force Administration To Abandon Plan for All Night Meeting

BOTH ARE CONFIDENT

Victory Predicted Freely Today by Opposing Factions in Fight.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Enemies of the administration ship subsidy bill, predicting ultimate victory, today resumed their filibuster against its enactment in the Senate after having drawn first blood in the opening battle.

The anti-subsidy "battalion of death," composed of Republican insurgents and Democrats, plunged into the third day of their filibuster with a renewed declaration they would "talk the bill to death." In the opening round, the insurgents scored by forcing the administration leaders to abandon their plan for holding a continuous all night session. Just before midnight, Senator Jones, Republican of Washington, proposed a temporary truce to allow the irregular Senators a little sleep.

Under Senate rules, Senator "Jim" Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, who held the floor when the truce came, was entitled to resume his speech today. Reed announced he would again talk on the "international situation." There was a possibility, however, the administration forces would reach an agreement during the day to vote on the Ladd motion substituting the "filled milk" bill for the subsidy. If the subsidy's opponents win, the filibuster would end.

Administration forces, however, were still confident. Senator Jones declared there would be no deviation in his plan for forcing the Senate into a record vote on the subsidy. He still predicted the administration would carry enough votes to write the subsidy on the statute books of the nation.

From the ranks of the filibusters came a counter forecast of victory. "We forced the administration to hold out the olive branch last night," said Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, leader of the insurgents.

"That was first blood and we have more in store for them. After Senator Reed finishes his lesson on the international situation I shall open a school on co-operation."

"From two text books, I shall read a lesson of 752,000 words to the Senate and when I finish Senator McKellar of Tennessee, will read a lesson on filibustering, as delivered in the Senate eight years ago by Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah. Senator Borah then will have a lesson on the Russian situation. The lessons will continue until Congress adjourns or the subsidy is discarded."

In the night session the filibusters suddenly changed their tactics after nine hours of speechmaking. While Senator Reed, Democrat, rested, a series of roll calls were started during which it was necessary to compel attendance of absent Senators by use of the sergeant-at-arms.

The sergeant-at-arms broke up a dinner party at the home of Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican of New Jersey, in his search for Senators and the appearance later of the Frelinghuysen party, Sen. Nelson, Republican of Minnesota and Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, on the floor in evening clothes caused the Senators to start a round of hand clapping and waving of handkerchiefs.

The roll calls continued for an hour and a half, until Senators were exhausted from being recalled to the Senate chamber. Reed, who had projected them, then resumed his address with the subtle comment, "after these wholly unnecessary interruptions, I shall continue."

It then became apparent that another roll call would reveal scores of Senators hidden away for the night. Less than an hour later, Jones proposed the truce, although previously the administration had defeated three attempts to force a recess.

SON OF PRETENDER TO PORTUGAL HIGH OFFICE SUCCEUMBS

New York, Feb. 21.—Prince Miguel de Braganza, oldest son of the pretender to the throne of Portugal, died at the home of his father in law William Rhineland Stewart, this morning of double pneumonia.

The prince was stricken with influenza two weeks ago when he and the princess were visiting her father. He was so much better early this week that the princess went to Newport to inspect the Moorings, their country place there.

Count Lascelles, Hungarian minister and a lifelong friend of the prince, hurried to his bedside from Washington when he learned of the prince's illness.

The marriage of Prince De Braganza and Miss Anita Stewart took place in Tulloch castle, Scotland. After royal opposition had been smoothed out by the late Emperor Francis-Joseph of Austria, who raised the American girl to the rank of princess after the wedding.

The prince first came to this country about a year ago, after serving through the war as an officer in the German army.

The prince was a grand son of King Miguel, who resigned in Portugal from 1828 to 1834.

Three children survive, Princess Elizabeth, 12; Prince Jean, 10; and Prince Miguel, 7.

VANDERVOORT SUE IN WILMINGTON BY OFFICER'S WIDOW

Suit for $25,000 damages was filed in Clinton County Common Pleas Court Wednesday morning against Louis Vandervoort, 21, confessed slayer of Patrolman Emery McCreight by the policeman's widow.

Alleging that Vandervoort by his confession to second degree murder and subsequent sentence to the State Penitentiary was responsible for the death of her husband, February 14, 1922, the widow asks a judgment in the sum of $25,000 for damages because of the act. The suit was filed by Hayes and Barnes, attorneys for Mrs. McCreight.

The suit filed in Wilmington parallels the damage action filed in Common Pleas Court here last week by Attorneys C. L. Darlington and F. L. Johnson representing Mrs. Mary Matthews, widow of Elvas Matthews, Xenia policeman, who was killed last December 21, for which Vandervoort is also charged.

Both suits present an interesting legal angle. Should the case filed here come to trial there would be an interesting legal development of whether Vandervoort could be subpoenaed from behind the bars of the State Penitentiary to appear at the trial. In order to prove grounds for damages, the plaintiff's attorneys would have to show the jury proof that Vandervoort had killed Matthews as charged in the petition. If the jury returns a judgment against Vandervoort and for the plaintiff, it will practically have to find Vandervoort guilty of the crime, although the verdict in the civil suit would actually have no bearing on the criminal case, and Vandervoort would have to be tried on the criminal charge before he could be punished.

In the Wilmington case, the youth has confessed to the murder and these question will not be relevant, although the question of getting Vandervoort to appear at the trial, presents the same interesting light.

WARRANT IS HELD VALID BY JUDGE IN KLAN HEARING

Springfield, Feb. 21.—Although he held that the search warrant was invalid, Police Judge Davis today ruled that the warrant upon which local police, in connection with the recent raid of alleged headquarters of the Springfield Ku Klux Klan organization, arrested W. M. Cortner, Muncie, Ind., reputed klan leader and organizer of the local Klan organization is valid.

Announcement of Judge Davis' ruling marked the opening of today's session at Cortner's hearing. Cortner is charged with "riotous conspiracy."

GERRYMANDERING PLANS IF PASSED EFFECT CHANGES

Greene County will be changed from the Seventh to the Sixth Congressional district, if either one of two gerrymandering bills introduced in the State Senate on Tuesday, and said to be backed by Republican leaders, passes.

Bills introduced by Senator Bender of Cuyahoga County and by Senator Price of Summit County seek re-appointment of representation from Ohio in the House of Representatives, and although slightly varying they are in many particulars the same. Greene County is placed in the Sixth District, the Seventh, which Congressman-elect Charles Brand of Urbana was named last fall to represent, having been split up.

Logan and Union Counties, as well as Greene, are removed from the Seventh district, and Pickaway, Ross and Pike added to it. Greene is placed in the Sixth, Union, in the eighth and Logan in the Fourth District. Butler County, strongly Democratic, is taken from the Third District and added to the Sixth, where Republican leaders hope the strong Republican majority will overcome the Democratic vote. Scioto formerly in the Sixth, has been annexed to the Tenth District.

EAST END NEWS

The youths failed to appear at Spring Hill School for their classes Monday morning and when they were still missing Monday evening police were notified. Chief of Police M. E. Graham telephoned West Union, where one of the boys has relatives.

Monday night, but no trace of them had been seen there. Relatives believe they may have started to walk to Florida.

AND IT IS "MY" COUNTRY.

In a speech before the American Electric Railway Association Secretary Fall of the Department of the Interior gave what was regarded as his "swan song" in view of his approaching retirement from the Cabinet on March 4. Mr. Fall took the opportunity to make some observations on public life and of conditions confronting the United States.

And, as you read, we suggest you ask yourself: "Of what other country on this round globe can this be said." Here is an extract from Mr. Fall's speech:

"Incidentally, I want to say that I know one country and one Government that have been acting on plain, simple advice in the last two years, aiming to get its people and its plant back at work, trying to increase its income and reduced its outgo, seeking to insure itself against wars and the menace of wars, endeavoring to accumulate real capital instead of fiat money, trying to lessen the burden of armaments, finding tasks—useful, worth-while tasks—for people who formerly were idle, encouraging trade and industry, seeking to open new markets, refusing to get entangled with others who have not found that the war is over.

"That country is the United States of America, and it has been setting a mighty good example of quiet, humdrum, safe and sensible management of a Nation's affairs.

"Nothing spectacular has been done, but taxes are lower, the danger of a war in the Pacific has been removed, four or five million workers who two years ago were out of jobs, are now in jobs, and more labor is needed than can be found; the cost of living hasn't been much reduced, but the number of people who can pay that cost has been increased powerfully; the huge Government debt has not been reduced much, but its increase has been stopped and we can see ahead the time when its progressive reduction will be a fixed part of the national program.

"The labor question has not been permanently settled and, thank God, it never will be—this side the millennium, but it has been changed to a question of finding enough work to keep people busy and fed, and, finally, everybody knows that right now the country is facing a period of great industrial activity and universal prosperity."

BUREAU REFORM.

For a generation it has been apparent that the Federal departments and bureaus should be reorganized, reformed and re-coordinate. We have been undertaking many new ventures in bureaucracy and paternalism, setting up new bureaus, boards and commissions as they were demanded and loosely hooking them to existing departments or permitting them to exist independently. There has been a growing confusion with a waste of money and energy and much overlapping of effort.

One of the Harding campaign pledges was that this condition should be remedied. He secured from his prospective Cabinet members the promise that they would support a reorganization plan in its final stages. That plan, prepared by Walter F. Brown, of Ohio, at the direction of the White House, has been placed before the Joint Congressional Committee on Reorganization and will be laid before the Sixty-eighth Congress.

The most striking proposal in the Administration plan is the wiping out of the War and Navy Departments as such and the creation in their place of a Department of National Defense. The new department would do the work now done by both. All non-military work such as river and harbor projects, will be handed over to other departments. This change was stoutly resisted by Secretaries Denby and Weeks.

The number of Cabinet officers will not be lessened, as a new Department of Education and Public Welfare is to reach out and take from other departments all educational and school work of the Governments and all such institutions as soldiers' homes, the Health Bureau, the Veterans' Bureau and the Federal prisons. As few as possible independent bureaus and boards are to be left outside the departments.

In the main the Administration plan is aimed at greater efficiency in governing, the shorting of red tape and the placing and centralizing of responsibility. It should result in great savings through the elimination of overlapped efforts of the many bureaus; but its greatest value would appear to be in getting the national work done.

PRESIDENT HARDING PLANNING FOR A REAL SUMMER REST.

President Harding is going to make his proposed trip to Florida a real vacation in the event that nothing happens between now and March 5 to prevent his going.

The Chief Executive does not want to make a lot of speeches or to be the center of interest while in the South. Several delegations have been told as much when they called at the White House to see if the President would not attend this or that ceremonial. What the President wants both for Mrs. Harding and himself, is a real rest after close confinement in Washington and the cares of office.

One feature will be a houseboat trip such as he took in 1921 between the election and inauguration. The Frelinghuysen houseboat is once more to be placed at the disposal of the Hardings, and in that way they hope even to avoid the discomforts of presidential popularity that are encountered at hotels.

A houseboat trip will be fine for the President and Mrs. Harding but tough on the newspapermen who are supposed to keep in touch with him every day. Several correspondents in Washington look back with considerable pain on the days when they were chasing the Harding houseboat; and but for the fact that once in while the Presidential conveyance would get stuck on mud bank, they probably would not have been able to keep up with their assignment.

The world's largest oil well, known as Larosa No. 2, is located near Maracaibo, Venezuela. This well produces 120,000 barrels of oil daily.

The suggestion that all automobile drivers in Washington, D. C., be bonded to the amount of $3000 has been abandoned as impractical.

The director of the Bronx Zoological Gardens, New York City, informs us that great packs of timber wolves from Canada are making onslaughts on sheep and cattle in the northern parts of this country.

AND THAT'S THAT

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The Springfield Southern and Cincinnati railroad company was incorporated in Columbus Thursday afternoon with a nominal stock of $25,000. Behind the filing of articles of incorporation is a gigantic traction scheme having as its object the operation of several traction lines radiating from Springfield. Right of way for 75 miles of road have already been secured and cover roads from Springfield, Clifton Gorge, Willington, Washington, C. H., and other neighboring county seats. At Clifton the company expects to erect a big summer hotel. Mrs. Frank L. Connable is now vice-president and treasurer of the Chattanooga Power Company. The Xenia Gas Company ran out of coal yesterday and that accounts for the short supply of gas which was felt in parts of the city last night. However two cars of gas coal arrived today. The physicians have all been on the go all the week attending to numerous cases of grip.

CHOOSING GOOD CORSETS

Do you really need corsets? Most women don't. My belief is that most women put on corsets not to mould nor support the figure, not to improve its shape, but simply because the shops offer them and other people wear them.

Proof of this is that they generally buy any style that pleases their fancy or their purses, with little thought as to whether it is the type of corset they may need.

Corsets are made in stock sizes and human bodies aren't, so no amount of lacing and taking in will ever make them conform actually to the shape of the woman's figure. The result is that they reduce all figures to a certain monotonous likeness varying only in bulk and exactly the same in contour.

The greatest charm of the feminine figure is the variety and delicacy of its curves, in short its individuality. What a shame, for instance, to take the broad shouldered, flat and boyish figure and give it a small waist and round hips merely because a pair of corsets forces it into such a shape.

What a pity to take the suppleness out of any figure and give it the stiffness and rigid curves of a well-filled pair of corsets.

What a pity to take away the elasticity of any figure by putting the waist and hip muscles in prison, which is what corsets does.

In short, what a pity to wear corsets! There are, however, exceptions. If you are fat you had better compress the fleshy curves into a semblance of even stiff youthfulness. But if you are old, of course, reduce. If you are old and inelastic you will sacrifice little and you may gain but few lines by corseting the figure. But in any case your corsets should be lightly boned, well made and as expensive as you can afford.

Q. Q.—The peculiar bird you ask about, the male of which takes turns with the female sitting on the eggs, is called the red sided ecletus.

L. L. L.—The almost inconceivable rapidity with which flies reproduce may be gleaned from the report of an expert on the matter. He said that if we assumed that quart of flies weighed a quarter of a pound, we obtained as the result of one season's breeding about sixty three tons of the insects.

Henry L. S.—In the manufacture of life-savers, the makers figure that one pound of cork is enough to keep a man of average weight afloat.

Try this easy way to heal your skin with Resinol

If you are suffering from eczema, ringworm or similar itching, red, unsightly skin affection, bathe the sore places with Resinol Soap and hot water, then gently apply a little Resinol Ointment. You will be astonished how instantly the itching stops and healing begins. In most cases the sick skin quickly becomes clear and healthy again, at very little cost.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are sold by all dealers in drugs and toilet goods.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Lee Ledbetter, 167 Hill St., Xenia, says: "I was miserably run down, especially when I arose in the morning. My back was weak and the least exertion tired me. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and received immediate relief. It was but a short time until Doan's cured me entirely of this trouble. The fact that I have not had any symptom for several years gives me reason to believe that Doan's have effected a permanent cure."

Mrs. Ledbetter gave the above statement Aug. 2, 1917, and on Aug. 15, 1921, she added: "I am very glad to again recommend so reliable a kidney remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills. They have made a permanent cure for me and I have had no occasion to use Doan's since they cured me several years ago. I am glad to confirm my statement of 1917."

Today's Talk

SOMEbody TO DO FOR

Nothing has been proved more certainly than that it is impossible for anyone to live to himself alone.

We all need somebody to do something for.

The pursuit of loneliness is the pursuit of selfishness.

Somewhere there is somebody sure to need us very much. And it is upon our decision to hunt out and find this person that rests the possibility of our happiness.

With no one to love, no one to run errands for, no one to wait upon in time of disappointment and loss, no one to give gifts to, life shrivels at its base.

For life, in any measure of abundance, is to love and to give.

And then, we need to have somebody to think about—somebody to fill our thoughts and to inspire our deeds.

He who does for himself exclusively, who has no time for his friends, who has no disposition to divide with others, how very poor he shall be some day, when least he expects that poverty of mind and soul.

Search for happiness how you will. If it does not lead to beauty and contentment through someone else, it will disappear as the fog or the frost beneath the sun's heat.

Keep doing something for someone else.

And the larger the number you are privileged to do for, that much greater shall be your reward of happiness.

TO SOUND OUT FRENCH POLICY ON DEBT TO U. S.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Eliot Wadsworth, secretary of the world war debt commission and assistant secretary of the treasury, sailed today for Europe with instructions to ascertain what France purposes to do about her debt owed the United States.

This was learned authoritatively at the treasury department simultaneously with the announcement from the state department that Mr. Wadsworth was leaving officially to take part in the Paris conference dealing with the status of American claims for the cost of the troops on the Rhine. Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium also will be represented at the conference.

Although the announced official purpose of his trip is to deal with the cost of the Rhine troops, Mr. Wadsworth will devote the greater part of his attention to making a comprehensive study of the French ability to make payments on their debt, approximately $3,400,000,000. While not authorized to negotiate formally, he is expected to ascertain from French officials some authoritative statement as to what the Paris government intends to do with reference to its obligation.

President Harding and his advisers will then determine what formal demands should be made on France and what terms for settling the debt should be proposed by the American commission.

Mr. Wadsworth's investigation of financial conditions in European countries will not be restricted to France. He is expected to make a later voyage for the purpose of studying situations in Italy and Belgium, in order that the American government may have accurate information on which to base pressure for debt settlements with those nations.

The final step in congressional ratification of the British debt settlement will be taken today. The bill then will go to the white house, where President Harding will sign it without delay. This action was made certain when the house ways and means committee unanimously voted to instruct Chairman Fordney to move in the house that the senate amendments to the legislation be concurred in. Chairman Fordney made the motion immediately after the reading of the journal, and the engrossed copy of the measure may reach the president before night.

Representative Burton, member of the debt commission and co-author of the bill, appeared before the committee and recommended concurrence in the amendments. He said there were some objections to the senate changes, but that in view of the danger of further delay and the impending adjournment, he thought it the wiser course not to take any course that would send the bill back to the senate.

TINY REVOLVER CONFISCATED AS BOY IS ARRESTED

When Frank Chesser, 17, was arrested by Patrolman Fred Jones Sunday morning on a charge of twice burglarizing the S. Engdman store, West Main Street, police confiscated a small revolver.

Out of a cabinet full of revolvers and pistols of all sizes, makes and descriptions confiscated by Police and held at headquarters, the revolver with which Chesser had armed himself, is considered the smallest and most unique specimen.

The revolver is known as a "baby hammerless" and is a tiny affair, shooting a .22 calibre short cartridge. The barrel is extremely short, including the cylinder, and the handle so small that it is almost impossible to hold. The gun is hammerless and there is no trigger guard, the trigger itself being hinged so that it folds up out of the way. The trigger pull is like that of a .45 calibre revolver, however, belying the diminutive size of the pistol.

The so-called weapon looks as if it were made to hang on the watch-chain or to wear as a watch fob, but there is no ring in the end of it. And they say it actually shoots.

CRIPPLED KIDDIES ARE EXAMINED AT CLINIC ON MONDAY

In connection with the Rotary Club's survey of all crippled children of the county, which is being made by the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross, with an aim of having every child examined, seven crippled children, from various parts of the county, met Dr. James Walker, orthopedic surgeon, of Dayton, at the Red Cross room in the Court House, Monday, for thorough examination.

The children were among the many crippled tots of the county who are being offered corrective measures, in case their parents cannot afford to pay for the treatment, through the contributions of the Rotary Club.

The clinic was conducted by Dr. Walker, assisted by Dr. R. Kent Finley, Miss Helen Evers, Red Cross nurse, Miss Jennie Moffett, of the Social Service League.

Two of the children at the examination Monday were from Spring

Valley, one from Yellow Springs, and four from Xenia, four of the cases being Social Service League cases, and three under the care of the Red Cross. Two of the seven children were examined for the first time.

Two of the children were placed in casts, two recommended for operations, one needed corrective shoes, one was recommended for continuation of the present treatment. Plaster casts were molded on two of the children, on the foot and leg of a child of seven years, and on the body of a child of one and one-half years.

Through the courtesy of Miss Elsie Canby, the room of the court stenographer was used for the clinic also. Two of the children who had no means of reaching the clinic, were brought to Xenia in Red Cross car.

DIES IN CLEVELAND

Xenia friends of Mrs. Alice Boyd Carpenter, of Cleveland, widow of Judge A. G. Carpenter, have received word of her death which occurred Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. McCrea in Cleveland.

Mrs. Carpenter was a member of the class of 1873 of the former Xenia College and was a student during the presidency of Prof. William Smith. While a student here she made many friendships with local people and kept them up throughout her life. She frequently visited with Mrs. H. H. Eavey, a friend of her college days. Mrs. Carpenter is survived by two daughters and one son, Mrs. McCrea, Mrs. L. F. Body and Robert F. Carpenter, all of Cleveland, and by eight grand children. She also leaves one brother, Mr. Robert Boyd, president of the London Exchange Bank at London, Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. Byers, also of London. Her husband preceded her in death four years ago.

Burial was made in Cleveland.

PROFIT FOR CLOTHIER ONE CENT ON DOLLAR

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—The average profit of a retail clothier on a $1 investment is 1 cent, declared Irving Paul, business analyst of Chicago, in an address before the Ohio Retailers and Furnishers' Association, in session here, Paul, who was former secretary of the joint congressional committee of agricultural inquiry, backed up his statement by reading excerpts from a report of the committee.

"To be exact," he said, "the profit of a retail clothing merchant on a $1 investment is 1.13 cents."

"When a man pays a retailer $2 for a suit of underwear the customer should remember that he is not only paying the retailer, but also a myriad of other people who make the garment."

Living in modern small flats also came in for its share of discussion. Mr. Paul declared that "our forefathers purchased commodities in wholesale lots and stored them in cellars and homes—but there is no room for $3 worth of groceries in the modern kitchenette flat."

The many small purchases and many deliveries all add to the cost," he concluded.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—There are too many bituminous coal mines in the United States and in consequence too many miners.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most effective means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ton about Friday to appear at this technical hearing and will be granted his release from there.

Vandervoort carried a gun most of the time, he told the reporter. He said that after he killed McCreight he felt some remorse but "not a great deal." He was more sorry for the widow, he said. He said he knew about the suit filed against him for $25,000 damages by Mrs. Mary Matthews, widow of the slain Xenia policeman, but said little about it, beyond denying that he was guilty of the Xenia murder.

ROBBED FOR THE THRILL

Vandervoort robbed for the thrill of it, he told the News-Journal reporter Wednesday. Craving excitement, he found an outlet for his feelings in this manner and it was for the love of the excitement that he robbed stores of articles which he never made use of. "If I had been in the army and gone to war I would have probably had my craving for excitement satisfied," Vandervoort told the reporter. "But I was not in the army and so I got my excitement by robbing places."

Greene County authorities have made no statement so far concerning what action would be taken against Vandervoort for the Matthews murder, but it is believed the Grand Jury will be asked to indict him for the crime at the May session. The indictment would then be ready if he should obtain his release from the penitentiary.

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—"He's free!"

After eight months of untiring and unwavering devotion, Mrs. Leroy McKinney, 1068 Rachel street, Cincinnati, last night sobbed happily when a brief message brought tidings that she had awaited confidently while the rest of the world refused to believe.

Her husband, convicted of the murder of Patrolman Emory McCreight of Wilmington, O., is to leave the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus as soon as Governor A. Victor Donahey can sign a pardon. The real slayer of the officer, Louis Vandervoort, son of a Greene County farmer, has confessed that he fired the fatal shot during an attempted hold up February 14, 1922, rivaling the exploits of Deadwood Dick.

McKinney, 29 years old, was sentenced in the Clinton county common pleas court at Wilmington to pass the remainder of his life in the penitentiary, but his wife, young and pretty, refused to believe. Her husband was far from the type of young man from which bandits are recruited. He was a student at the university of Chicago for two years and in court his appearance was the opposite of the ordinary criminal.

The young wife displayed a courage that rivalled any in fiction, sustained by positive knowledge that "Roy" was with her when the shot that killed the Wilmington patrolman was fired. Brushing aside tears, she explained to skeptical neighbors that "he'll be freed some day."

Local Soldier Champion Rifle Shot On The Rhine

After four years on permanent contingent has been stationed. Private Swindler will have been in the service four years next May 1, and is now serving his second term of enlistment. During practically all of that time he has been stationed with the Rhine forces. When he enlisted he had one more year of his high school course to complete and by taking advantage of the government offer of education he completed his high school requirements in the first year after entering Germany. The second year he took up the study of mechanical draftsmanship, which course he completed so successfully that he taught a class in that study the third year he was in the territory. His enlistment was based partly on his belief that he would be able to again teach that study, but when many of the soldiers were returned to the States a year ago, the class was so depleted that it was given up.

Private Swindler's record of champion rifle shot of the allied forces won him considerable honor among the soldiers billeted in German territory. On her return to the States, a Savannah, Ga. newspaper carried his name among the list of "notables" arriving on the ship, with the comment that he had won fame in the Rhine land by not only winning the rifle shot championship of the American Expeditionary Forces but also of the entire allied armies, including British, French and Belgian. In setting up rifle record, Swindler eliminated many veterans of the Army, some of whom had seen more than 20 years service.

As a result of his skill with the army rifle, Swindler has two valuable trophies to show. One is a gold watch and chain valued at $75 which he was awarded for taking one championship and the other is a gold medal, valued at $100, which was awarded him for another show of his prowess.

He has not advised relatives here when he will receive his discharge from service.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—"Well, we all have our troubles!" This philosophical comment was made by Clarence LeRoy McKinney in office of Warden Thomas at the Ohio State penitentiary yesterday when a reporter told him he soon would be free from prison where he has served five months of a life sentence for murder he did not commit.

Injustice of his sentence was ascertained yesterday when Louis Vandervoort, Jamestown, confessed to the crime for which McKinney was held, the killing of Special Officer Emory McCreight in Wilmington, February 14, 1922.

"I've always had a feeling I'd get out," McKinney said when, as No. 51,210, he was summoned from his work at the loom mill to receive the news. "I haven't felt so very bad because I knew I wasn't guilty. I've felt more sorry for my wife and my father and mother than for myself—the humiliation was hard on them."

"A life sentence isn't a very pleasant thing, but I've had hope. I'd like to see them as anxious to get me out of here now, as they were anxious to get me in. My father and I have spent $6000 to date for lawyers' fees and for the appeal. I think the state should reimburse us for that."

Warden Thomas said of McKinney, "I've been in the business for 19 years, but I've never come across such a case before. The fellow is the greatest philosopher I ever have seen."

Marvelous, indeed, was the self-control exhibited by the 29-year-old boy regarding such vital news to him. Only by the twitching of his face did he display any emotion. The manner in which he responded to questions and rehearsed details of the case revealed the thought he has given to it since his imprisonment; but his nervous system apparently is unaffected.

"One reason I've felt sure my innocence could be proved," he stated cheerfully, "was that I heard the prosecutor said he didn't believe I was guilty. Will you tell me if that's true, warden, just to satisfy my curiosity?"

Complying with the request of a wrongfully convicted man, Warden Thomas read the statement of S. L. Gregory, prosecuting attorney. The latter asserted he doubted strongly whether recognition was possible under such circumstances as Henry Adams, chief witness, claimed to have recognized McKinney.

The statement of Judge Frank M. Cleveland, on the other hand, maintained the judge was certain of McKinney's guilt.

McKinney declared Judge Cleveland was unfair but as he did so manifested much indignation but no bitterness.

"How could a man have a chance," he asked. "All my lawyer's objections were overruled and all the prosecutor's objections were sustained, regardless of what they were. We proved by 21 people we were in Cincinnati on the night of the murder in Wilmington."

ST. BRIGIDS TEAMS DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL

LEGION FIVE TO RETURN TO COURT WITH TIGERS FRIDAY IN DAYTON TUESDAY—THREE GAMES FRIDAY

LEGION BACK IN ACTION

By WONES

Fans who like good professional basketball will get just what they are looking for at the Rink Thursday night when the John Roan Post team which has been absent from the court for several weeks will tangle with the Springfield Tigers.

It will be remembered that it was the Tigers that handed the locals a drubbing on the Rink court last year by a 23 to 12 score and they also defeated the Chicago Defenders this season at Springfield by several points. So far the Clark County lads have only dropped one game and that was to the fast Evanston Y. M. C. A. of Illinois and it was a very close game. The locals also took the short end of the score when they played the Evanston bunch.

But since that time the Legion has re-organized and under the new manager Dean Mohr, has secured such athletes as Winters, Duff, Sol Butler, and J. Anderson. With this bunch on the floor they have defeated some of the best combinations going including the New York Defenders, Baltimore Athenians, Kenton and also won the title of Colored Champions when they toppled over the Leodis Club of Pittsburgh. On the other hand the bunch from Springfield does not let any grass grow under its feet and always gives opponents a stiff argument.

The Tigers handed the Morris Brown Club of Atlanta, Georgia a terrific lacing and with many stars in their lineup they count on giving the local team the same thing they have dished out to the rest of their opponents.

They will present their usual lineup H. Norris, Lee and Heathy at the forwards, Greene or Pearle will do the jumping, while Spears who played a few games with the Legion will probably play at one guard with Shaffer or Hamilton at the other.

The locals will use Winters and Joe Anderson, the local flash, at the forwards Duff at center, Sol Butler and Ward at the guards, Stewart will also get into the game. The contest will start at 8:30, with L. Rachford in charge of the whistle. There will be a dance after the game with the Sync Six of Springfield furnishing the music.

ST. BRIGIDS WINS AND LOSES

By WONES

The St. Brigid High School basketball team lost to the fast St. Marys Marians of Dayton on the latter court by a 54 to 25 score Tuesday night.

The locals did not have much success in locating the net and this was just the reason that they lost, their passwork being good while their defense was just fair at times. The Saints were handicapped also by the floor being of the cigar box type.

The Dayton bunch fought pretty hard for their victory as the game was not as one-sided as the score would indicate.

In the preliminary the St. Brigid Juniors defeated the St. Marys Monitors which team defeated the locals some time ago and thereby got revenge handing the Dayton lads the short end of a 20 to 14 score. The locals were right and with Guidlay and G. Herr hitting the net quite frequently they soon piled up a lead that meant defeat for the Monitors.

Guidlay was the first to score with a fielder and Russell came back and knotted the count and Herr turned in a long shot that gave the local team an edge. Baskets by Graham, Herr and Guidlay ran the total up to 14 as the half ended. The Dayton gang having 6 points while the locals were just 8 points better.

The second half the St. Marys bunch came back fighting hard to stave off defeat but the 8 point lead that the St. Brigid lads had in the first period caused their downfall. The second half the Monitors scored eight points while the locals added six to their score. Guidlay, Herr and Graham played well for Xenia while the rest of the team also played good ball.

EAST HIGH CHALLENGES.

The East High School basketball squad, which has fairly crowned itself with victories over some of the best teams in the State, including Dayton H. Y., Springfield Nationals, Columbus H. Y., Wilberforce Academy, Columbus Champions and the South Side Merchants of Xenia is signing for more worlds to conquer.

AUTOS SET FOR COLLEGIANS

By WONES

Three games will be staged at new High School gym Thursday night, and each contest looms up to be a tight affair.

In the first game the Merchants will tangle with the Famous Five while the second game will bring together the Presto Lites and the Le-farrets. Both these teams are from Dayton and will no doubt put up an interesting affair.

In the third game of the evening the Famous Autos will take on the crack Medway Collegians, Champions of both Clark and Greene Counties. This game ought to be a hummer as both teams are the bitterest of rivals. They will send the Medway bunch away with the short end of the score but to do this will require a very skillful bunch of basketballers and that is just what the Autos are. The first game will get under way at 7 o'clock with a competent referee in charge of the games.

THREE GAMES FRIDAY

There will be three games on tap at the Central High court Friday night according to the card arranged by John R. Beacham, school athletic manager.

The court menu will include the clash between the Central High five and the Springfield High as the main dish of the evening and two preliminaries will work up interest toward the big game.

The first preliminary will see the Robt. Hoods and the Orient Hill Reds in action while the semi-windup will see the South Detroit Street Merchants, leaders of the Municipal League, contending with the team from Miami-Jacobs Business College in Dayton.

APPEAL BUS CASE FROM CITY POLICE COURT ON ERROR

Clarence Stoner, operator of a motor bus line between Xenia and Dayton is plaintiff-in-error, in a case filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday against the City of Xenia, on appeal from decision of Judge E. D. Smith, in Police Court.

The bus company is subject to an ordinance passed by the City Commission sometime ago regulating the operation of busses, including the license fee to be paid, and the company hopes to make a test case of the ordinance, it is understood. Appealing from the Police Court decision handed down February 5, 1923, the plaintiff-in-error claims the lower court erred in that its finding was against the weight of the evidence and contrary to law; that demurrer to the affidavit should have been sustained for the reason that the affidavit was insufficient, defective and did not set forth sufficient facts to constitute an offense under the laws of Ohio; that the ordinance itself is unconstitutional, unreasonable, illegal and void; that the motion to dismiss should have been sustained and that the motion in arrest of judgment should have been sustained.

Attorneys for the plaintiff in error are F. W. Krehbiel and Strother E. Jackson, of Dayton, while City Solicitor J. A. Finney represents the city in the action.

MUST SUPPORT CHILD.

Calvin Dimmitt will have to pay Helen Milburn $150 in lump sum and $2 a week for the support of the child of which she claims he is the father, according to a jury recently found Dimmitt guilty at the end of the third trial of the case. The court overruled the motion for a new trial and fixed bond in the sum of $500 to insure payment of the money.

APPEAL FROM PROBATE COURT.

Appealing from the decision of Judge J. Carl Marshall in Probate Court, an action in the matter of the exceptions to the account of Arthur Hamilton, guardian of Hattie A. Smith, an incompetent, has been filed in Common Pleas Court. The exceptions of Lucy Allen and William Hamilton to the account were sustained in Probate Court and notice of appeal given by Arthur Hamilton.

AMERICA MAINTAINS NEUTRAL ATTITUDE

Washington, Feb. 21.—Determination of President Harding and secretary of State Hughes to obtain from any action at this time which might be construed as "intervention" in the Ruhr situation was re-emphasized today in the wake of yesterday's discussion of American policy in the British parliament.

Veiled intimations during the debate that informal "conventions" have been going on between Washington and London concerning the possibilities of joint British-American action utterly failed of confirmation today.

THAW TO VISIT MOTHER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 21.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, was granted a temporary release from the Pennsylvania State Hospital for the Insane here today by Judge J. Willis Martin, in Common Pleas Court.

Thaw, accompanied by a special guard, will be permitted to visit his mother in Pittsburgh, but must return to the institution on March 3rd.

Perhaps the most positive proof of a woman's cooking skill is her ability of making a good fruit cake. For generations the fruit cake has marked the pinnacle of culinary art. This kind of cake need not be over-expensive to be delicious. Here is my own original recipe, presented in a "just how" form to help the inexperienced housekeeper:

Dark Fruit Cake: Cream together, in a medium-sized bowl, one cup of light brown sugar and one-fourth cup of lard or butter. Stir into this three unbeaten eggs and mix well; then add one-third cup of sweet milk in which one-third teaspoon of baking soda has been dissolved, and also add one-half cup of molasses. Again mix vigorously. Now sift together two cups of bread flour and two teaspoons of baking powder. Add this flour-mixture to the other ingredients, in the bowl, and then stir in one-fourth teaspoon each of ground allspice and cloves, one-half teaspoon each of ground cinnamon and nutmeg, one teaspoon of lemon extract, one cup of dried currants, one cup of dried seedless raisins (the large ones) and one-fourth cup of finely-shaved citron peel. Turn this stiff batter in a bread pan (any pan which measures eight and one-half inches by four and one-half inches on the bottom will do) and slip the pan into a good hot oven. In all, the cake must bake two hours. During this time the oven heat must be decreased from high to low (that is, it must be quite hot when the cake is put in and continue so for the first half hour, then be reduced gradually). When baked, the cake should be turned out of its pan at once to cool and dry.

Nowadays "cake racks" are sold in the stores, to cool hot cakes on. But many of us cannot afford these ideal culinary helps, so must improvise our own cake racks out of removable, barred oven-shelves, inverted wire dish-drainers, etcetera. When cool, the cake must be wrapped in white linen and kept in a cool, dry place in a cake box. It will ripen as the weeks go by. If properly done, this cake will be two and one-half inches high, after baking.

URGES ABOLITION OF RAIL BOARD

Chicago, Feb. 21.—An appeal for a return to the "family negotiations" between the railroads and their employees was made by William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen, a visitor in Chicago today. Mr. Lee addressed the Western Railway Club—an organization composed chiefly of railroad operating officials—last night.

Lee advocated the abolition of the U. S. Railroad Labor Board. "Railroad employees," he said, "do not believe in enforced submission of their difference to any court."

He deplored the tendency toward government regulation of railroads and expressed disapproval of President Harding's suggestion that a new division of the interstate commerce commission be created to handle railway labor disputes.

THREE INJURED IN FIRE.

Mrs. Appel and Belcher, her uncle, in addition to being burned, were hurt when they jumped from second story windows to escape being trapped in the burning house.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XIV

As Ann watched the others pitching quoits, playing hand ball and so on she caught several glances in her direction from Grace, usually after Dick had stopped to ask how she felt.

She thought the glances malevolent yet tried to believe it was her imagination. Dick was frankly anxious over her accident and that helped her to think Bessie was wrong; that it had not been design that had placed the stick in her way.

"We'll fix the back seat so you can be more comfortable," Ned said when it was time to start on the long ride home. "Bessie can ride in front with me."

"Oh, I'll go back with Dick!" Ann replied quickly. "You will be more comfortable with Ned, Ann," Dick said, "and I have promised to let Grace drive me home. She says she can drive better than I can. She'll have to demonstrate it before I'll believe her."

Ann said no more. Her ankle still throbbed painfully, and she knew she would be far more comfortable in the tonneau of Ned's car than in the road ster.

But as she caught the glance of triumph Grace cast at her, she wished she had insisted, had refused to go with Ned and Bessie.

Ned drove carefully so as not to jar Ann and when they reached the Belden ranch, Dick and Grace were waiting on the porch.

Dick lifted Ann carefully from the car, insisted she must not walk, and carried her into the house. Ned called to Grace to hurry, and she calling: "Good Night, Dick", started down the walk, then as if she just remembered Ann's existence she called:

"I gave Dick the time of his life coming home, Ann! Hope your ankle will be all right absolutely heartless? Was she wicked? Or didn't she mean anything by her actions?"

To Ann's loyal soul the girl was an enigma.

To deliberately make love to another woman's husband, to try and break up a home seemed to her a thing so far beyond the pale that she was constantly trying to persuade herself it could not be; that she wronged Grace who was just a silly thoughtless girl, so selfish she neither thought or cared if others were hurt.

Her ankle kept her housed for a couple of days, days that Grace spent in the orchards with Dick, or with Ned, while Bessie ministered to Ann's comfort.

"Dick was going into San Bernardino and Grace had declared she was going with him."

She had some shopping to do and it was her chance.

"He won't drink even if he meets men he knows if Grace is with him," Ann said to herself.

He seldom went as far as San Bernardino was not as apt to meet the nearby ranchers there, yet Ann never failed to worry when he was away from the ranch. She hated the thought of his being all day with Grace, but her lame ankle made it impossible for her to go with them.

"Don't expect us until you see us!" Grace called gaily as they drove away. Ann had asked Dick not to stay late, as she felt uneasy at being alone when it was hard for her to move about, and he had promised.

Ann was not quite happy thinking of the long day Dick was to be with Grace Edmunds. Yet she had perfect faith in her husband. To her, marriage meant more than a few words said by a clergyman, tying two people together to be untied because of some slight cause; it meant a permanent union. "Those whom God hath joined together" was no empty phrase to her and she believed Dick felt and believed as she did. But he was a gay, fun-loving fellow, and like most men easily flattered. She didn't quite trust Grace, but she didn't really doubt her—as to her morality. She was fond of men's society, had often declared she wasn't a "woman's woman," that women bored her. She was beautiful, loved flattery and disliked domesticity. So Ann thought of her as she stayed alone all the long hours, mending, doing whatever she could about the house without hurting her ankle.

As the afternoon waned she went out upon the porch to watch for them. They would be home soon now, she said to herself. But hour after hour passed and still Dick did not come. Could something have happened to them? It was striking midnight when she heard the flivver and a moment afterward Dick came in laden with parcels.

"I didn't forget anything this time, Ann. Grace took good care I shouldn't. He kissed her, then laid his parcels on the table."

"Didn't you forget your promise, dear?" Ann asked gently. "What promise?"

"To come home early."

"By jove, I did promise you, didn't I? But when we finished the shopping Grace insisted I take her to a motion picture, and afterward said she was hungry, so we had dinner at the hotel. It was so late I took her home instead of having her come in."

"Did you have a good time?"

"Dandy! That girl's some good company. I'll tell anyone who asks. But I'm sorry I forgot my promise. Ann. It absolutely slipped my mind."

SUSPENDED MASSILLON MAYOR GIVES HIS SIDE OF STORY WEDNESDAY

Defense Introduces Witnesses as Hearing Re-
opens Before Donahey
DENY ALLEGATIONS
Declare Nothing but Hear-
say Evidence Was Un-
earthed.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—That the City Council at Massillon was forced to start an investigation into law enforcement by Mayor Herbert H. Vogt, and his chief of police two years ago, during the mayor's first term, is the declaration of Oscar L. Kratsch, Massillon, clerk of the city park commission, who was the first witness called at today's hearing by Governor Donahey, relative to charges of failure to properly enforce the laws which have been filed with the governor against Mayor Vogt by Massillon citizens.

Kratsch called to the stand by the defense, testified that the investigating committee appointed by the City Council, found nothing but hearsay evidence tending to support the criticisms leveled against the mayor's administration. He said he had no knowledge of any booze selling.

Dr. C. E. James, Massillon, was the next witness called by the defense. He is Mayor Vogt's family physician. Dr. James testified that he saw no open violations of law on his trips around Massillon. During cross examination by Assistant Attorney General Corn, James admitted he was a very busy man and did not have time to really investigate conditions.

Former State Senator Frank Norwood, Columbus, now prohibition enforcement officer, a former resident of Massillon testified he found normal observance of prohibition laws, at Massillon.

Evidence supporting charges against Mayor Herbert H. Vogt, Massillon, accused of not properly enforcing dry and anti-gambling laws, was completed late yesterday at the hearing being conducted by Governor Donahey to determine whether he will oust the mayor from office.

Those testifying against the mayor included Lawrence Larkin and Guy Steele, former policemen; Rev. Grant Perkins of the Wesley M. E. Church; Massillon; R. H. Kirk, of the second Presbyterian church; R. P. Pennell and John Powell, former investigators for the state prohibition enforcement department; Dr. H. F. Wagner, member of the Massillon city council, and R. H. Hickok former service director and acting chief of police at Massillon.

It is expected that Vogt's hearing will be completed today and that Gov. Donahey will immediately hear the cases of safety Director Ames, Police Chief Ertle and Lieut. Gillen against whom charges have been filed similar to those lodged against Mayor Vogt.

GASOLINE SUPPLY TO LAST 64 DAYS

Washington, Feb. 21.—Only 64 days supply of gasoline is now in reserve in the United States, W. C. Hill, petroleum economist of the U. S. bureau of mines, announced today.

Present indications are that the stocks by May will increase between 300,000,000 and 350,000,000 gallons Hill said.

On the other hand he pointed out, the expected increase may be decreased by a falling off in refinery operations.

JAPAN TO AVOID DISCORDS WITH UNITED STATES

Will Continue Policy of Keeping Away From Dan-
gerous Issues.
PRESSURE IS USED
Government Will Make No
Effort to Change Present Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Despite tremendous pressure from influential sections of Japanese public opinion, the Japanese government will continue its policy of avoiding all issues calculated to stir up discord between Japan and the United States. It was learned officially today.

Ambassador Hanabara, the newly appointed representative of Japan, who has just arrived in Washington, will make no effort to change the treaty relations of the two countries when the 12-year-term of the present treaty expires in July, and the convention will automatically continue in force.

Having been a member of the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference, Ambassador Hanabara is peculiarly fitted for carrying out the American policies of Prime Minister Kato, who headed that delegation, and he is in thorough sympathy with the premier's program of cordial friendship and understanding with the United States.

Much opposition has been aroused in Japan against the terms of the existing commercial treaty, and a vigorous campaign is being conducted to force the Kato government to insist upon revision of its terms to obtain Japanese in the United States to own land, to become naturalized, and in general to be received on the same basis as Europeans.

OVERSEER OF ZION CITY FACES TERM IN PENITENTIARY

Found Guilty of Charge of
Criminal Liable By
Illinois Jury

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion City, today faced the possibility of a term in jail. He was found guilty of criminal libel by a jury last night. Counsel for Voliva announced he would demand a new trial.

Six months imprisonment or a fine of $10,000 or both, is the maximum penalty that may be meted out to Voliva.

The criminal libel charge against Voliva was preferred by the Rev. Thomas Nelson, pastor of an independent church in Zion City. He accused Voliva of calling him a "billy goat," a "tom cat," and a "blather-skite," among other things in a pamphlet which Voliva distributed.

Voliva and Nelson have had a number of controversies. At one time Voliva contended that Nelson was attempting to displace him as overseer.

Hearing on a motion for a new trial has been set for March 10.

TWO HUNDRED POLES AND LITHUANIANS SHOT DOWN

Finding of Stolen Car Used by Thugs May Lead to Capture of Men Who Kidnaped Youthful Employee
In Cincinnati.

London, Feb. 21.—Two hundred Poles and Lithuanians were killed and wounded in fighting in the neutral zone near Vilna, according to unofficial reports received today from Copenhagen.

These casualties were sustained in the fighting over the week end. No new clashes have been reported. Great Britain has sent a communication to Kovno protesting to Lithuania against the arrest of British army officers south of Vilna. General Carton de Wiart and Major Grant of the British army were arrested while investigating conditions in the neutral zone. The British consul interfered and the men were released.

Paris, Feb. 21.—Russia has sent a note to Lithuania, giving definite assurances that the Soviet will aid the Lithuanians in their boundary dispute with Poland, according to information received by the French foreign office today.

The Russian communication was said to declare that "determination of the Polish-Lithuanian boundary without the consent of both countries would endanger the peace of Europe."

Riga treaty forbids the league of nations from fixing the Polish-Lithuanian frontiers.

Copenhagen, Feb. 21.—Isolated bombardments by Lithuanian and Polish artillery were reported today from the Vilna district.

Lithuania is said to be massing troops on the Polish frontier near Breny, fifty miles west of Vilna, the former Lithuanian frontier. This railway was granted to the Poles by the league of nations over the protests of Lithuania.

POLICE ON TRAIL OF BANDIT TRIO WHO ROBBED MESSENGER

Fighting in Neutral Zone Near Vilna Over Week End
Results in Many Casualties—Soviet Offers Support.

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—Finding by police of the stolen car used by three unmasked bandits yesterday to kidnap William Oberjohn, 16, bank messenger, from whom $8,500 was taken in a bold hold-up near the center of the business district, may lead to the apprehension of the trio, detectives said today. The car was found in Mount Adams, a suburb.

The youth was within a block of the Pearl Market Bank, by which he was employed when the robbers halted him and demanded that he surrender the satchel in which he was carrying the money. Upon his refusal one of the three struck him with a wrench, and the others threw him into the car.

"How much is there in the bag?" inquired the leader of the trio, as the car sped away.

"Nothing at all," Oberjohn replied as two of the bandits held him in the bottom of the machine.

A bottle of an anaesthetic liquid, held to his nose, soon made the boy unconscious. When he recovered his senses he was in a suburban street. He sought the nearest telephone and called the bank.

Another clue may develop as a result of information that three men in a car stopped near a restaurant in Carthage, a suburb, and covered the license tags on front and rear of the machine with strips of burlap.

The majority of the loot was in the form of bonds, the serial numbers of which bank officials have wired to authorities in all Middle West cities.

Irish Factions Battle In The Heart Of Dublin

Two Republicans Killed and Several Wounded in Hour's Fight Wednesday—Irregulars Attack Bank Of Ireland Starting Fracas.

Dublin, Feb. 21.—A battle of one hour's duration between Republican irregulars and Free State troops was fought in the heart of Dublin today. Two Republicans were killed and several wounded. The Free Staters did not report any casualties. The city hall was attacked simultaneously with the bank of Ireland.

Most of the rebels escaped. Fighting began when the irregulars attacked the bank of Ireland. Free State troops were rushed to the scene. In the meantime the irregulars had taken shelter behind barricades. The violent volleys of shots that followed threw the entire center of the city into panic.

Irregulars took up positions on roof tops and fired upon passing Free State soldiers. The latter rushed into the buildings firing as they ran. Rebels entered government buildings and started fires, but they were extinguished by firemen before they did serious damage.

A cordon of Free State troops was thrown about that section of the city where fighting was most severe.

MUMMY OF OLD EGYPTIAN KING NOT DISTURBED

May Not Remove it From Ancient Tomb as Protests Sent

Luxor, Egypt, Feb. 21.—The mummy of Tutanekhamen may remain in its 3,000 year old tomb in the Valley of the Kings and not be placed in a museum to satisfy the eyes of a curious world, it was learned today. Lord Carnarvon, head of the Egyptologist explorers who uncovered the tomb, has been deeply moved by the protests from many parts of the world against disturbing the body of the ancient pharaoh and especially against putting it upon public view.

It is understood that Lord Carnarvon is considering the advisability of reproducing the sarcophagus and its inner shrine in wax, allowing the mummy to remain where it was placed by the Egyptian priests more than 1,000 years before the coming of Christ.

The inner chamber of the tomb was still open today. So far the leaders of the exploring party have not reached a decision as to when it will be closed. Scientists continue their investigations with growing wonder over the splendor of the art objects. Inscriptions and religious objects are throwing much new light upon the burial rituals of the ancient Egyptian kings. Also they make revelations of the utmost historical importance upon the high degree of culture existent then.

Large numbers of foreign tourists continue to arrive. Most of them are content to look upon the tomb or to touch the ancient stones employed thirty centuries ago by the hands of Egyptian slaves. Some, however, give the scientists trouble by insisting upon a close view of articles taken from the outer chamber.

GOVERNOR VETOES BILL-DECLARING MEASURE CRUDE

Rag Sterilization Act
Might Cause Wrong
Prosecution

Columbus, Feb. 21.—Governor Donahey has vetoed the Evans bill which required sterilization of all rags sold to factories for wiping purposes. The governor held the proposed law was vague and crude and could result in prosecution of an innocent person.

The governor gave his approval to the Bender bill providing that any person furnishing poisonous liquor which causes another person's death may be convicted of murder.

Bills providing for a new division of the state into congressional districts were introduced by Senators Price, Summit County, and Bender, Cuyahoga. The bill seeking to reduce fatalities due to carbon monoxide gas poisoning, generated by gas stoves, heaters and other heating devices, is expected to be introduced today. Supported by state health officials, federal authorities and officers of gas companies and stove manufacturing concerns, the bill will provide regulations for installation of heating devices and prohibit such installations unless authorized by municipal building departments or health commissioners. A resolution proposing amendment to the state constitution providing for a four year term for governor was introduced by Representative Rohe, Seneca County.

Other bills introduced provide for a chiropractic licensing board; four year terms for county prosecutors; exclusion of spectators from courtrooms during trials when testimony affecting public morals is given; two years residence in Ohio before divorce suits can be filed and prohibiting divorces from remarrying within a year; permitting the state to collect 25 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, of the Crable dry law fines, except where the prosecution is conducted by a county prosecutor; protecting first mortgage holders when fines for liquor law violations are made a lien against real estate.

Relates Actions on Night
Wilmington Officer
Was Killed

CONFESSES GUILT

"Not Feeling Very Good"
Over Prospects of Years
In Jail.

Sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for life for the murder of Emory McCreight, Wilmington Policeman, more than a year ago, Louis Vandervoort, 21, son of a wealthy family of near Jamestown, expressed himself Wednesday morning as "not feeling very good about the sentence," that faces him.

For the first time since his incarceration in the Clinton County jail, following the accusation of murder placed against him, Vandervoort talked freely to a reporter for the Wilmington News-Journal. The youth was sentenced Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge F. M. Clevenger, after he pleaded guilty to second degree murder, his first admission of the McCreight murder, and will probably be taken to the Penitentiary to begin his sentence Friday. His cousin, Walter Bingham, 20, of Port William, who pleaded guilty to manslaughter at the same time was sentenced from one to 20 years in the Mansfield Reformatory, will be taken to that institution at the same time.

Vandervoort did not attend the trial of McKinney last summer, he told the Wilmington News-Journal reporter Wednesday. He said he was afraid to be seen around the court for fear he might "get his own neck into the noose." Vandervoort said he felt bad that McKinney was sentenced for the crime when he was not guilty, but that he was ignorant of legal proceedings and he was afraid he would get caught himself if he said anything in an attempt to save McKinney. However, he told the reporter, if McKinney had been sentenced to the electric chair, he would have confessed to the crime himself to save the innocent man.

Kept a Secret

Vandervoort was never on the point of giving himself up he told the newspaper man, and would have kept his depositions a secret if he had not been caught. He denied absolutely having anything to do with the murder of Elvas Matthews, Xenia policeman, who was shot six times from ambush and killed here last December 21.

The youth described in detail his actions on the night McCreight was killed. He said he wore a sheep-skin lined coat and a cap and Bingham had on a sheep-skin lined coat and a toboggan. He said when the officers discovered him and his cousin in the rear of the Murphy Benham hardware store that they talked a bit with the policemen, telling them they were looking for a dog, when asked concerning their presence in the alley. He said, however, that he was cornered, scared stiff and afraid he would get caught and that he thought the shooting was the only course. He said after firing he and Bingham ran to his machine drove around the square and went home.

RELEASE IS SOUGHT.

In the meantime steps are being planned in Wilmington to obtain the release of Roy "Mack" McKinney, 29, sentenced to life in the penitentiary months ago for the murder of McCreight, after he had been found guilty by a jury in Wilmington, although he protested his innocence to the last. Proper legal measures will be followed in obtaining McKinney's release, which will probably be effected the last of this week. The Court of Appeals will be asked to review the case immediately and remand it to Common Pleas Court for a new trial, alleging error. The case will then be technically tried again Friday before Judge Clevenger, who sentenced McKinney, and he annul the sentence passed before. McKinney will be brought from Columbus to Wilmington.

proving. He was able to receive visitors today for the first time since last week.

Schwab said that Europe had a misconception of America's wealth, adding: "We who are supposed to be so wealthy have never been so poor. They talk about our having all the gold. I do not see it. Why I could double my income by retiring and putting my income in tax-exempt securities."

they are unable to undertake any new business ventures."

Schwab said that the American tariff was not affecting imports. Touching upon the Anglo-American debt settlement he said it was the "greatest step ever taken for binding British and American relations."

Schwab said he did not believe that the other allied nations would be pressed to pay their debts to the United States during the present European troubles.

Asked about the proposed American ship subsidy which is now before congress, Schwab said he favored it. "It will not injure England," added the steel magnate.

SKIN ABLAZE with Eczema
Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells. S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1891! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders. Blood-cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot tell too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

HARRY MERION, COLUMBUS, O.
Statement of Well-Known Local Man Explaining How He Built Up His Strength.

Harry Merion, fruit and vegetable salesman, of 411 East Mound Street, Columbus, in relating his experience with Ka-di-ok, says: "I have been seriously handicapped in my work the past two years with a severe case of rheumatism; attacks of indigestion and bloating pains were almost an everyday occurrence with me. I had to shun all kinds of fruits, as the acid always upset me; likewise all fried foods; even the simplest and plainest diet disagreed with me. No person in the world can hold up and make any kind of showing under these adverse conditions and I felt myself slipping and almost ready to quit. Just a few weeks ago, however, I was advised by a friend to try Ka-di-ok, which I purchased at Herpich's drug store, and have been taking it every day up to the present time. This Ka-di-ok has absolutely banished my stomach trouble and for the past week or two I have forgotten all about dieting and eat anything that appeals to me without any distress after it. My rheumatism has passed away and I am today in better physical condition than I have been in years. I have strength and confidence in myself to go after business, and enjoy my work now. Ka-di-ok is a splendid stomach remedy; it is in a class by itself."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism headaches, liver trouble, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv

The building will cost approximately $100,000.

Construction will be started as quickly as possible. Selection of a site is at present a difficult problem, the original plans being to erect the building on the present site of the administration building.

INSURGENTS WIN OPENING ROUND OF FILIBUSTER

Force Administration To Abandon Plan for All Night Meeting

BOTH ARE CONFIDENT

Victory Predicted Freely Today by Opposing Factions in Fight.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Enemies of the administration ship subsidy bill, predicting ultimate victory, today resumed their filibuster against its enactment in the Senate after having drawn first blood in the opening battle.

The anti-subsidy "battalion of death," composed of Republican insurgents and Democrats, plunged into the third day of their filibuster with a renewed declaration they would "talk the bill to death." In the opening round, the insurgents scored by forcing the administration leaders to abandon their plan for holding a continuous all night session. Just before midnight, Senator Jones, Republican of Washington, proposed a temporary truce to allow the irregular Senators a little sleep.

Under Senate rules, Senator "Jim" Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, who held the floor when the truce came, was entitled to resume his speech today. Reed announced he would again talk on the "international situation." There was a possibility, however, the administration forces would reach an agreement during the day to vote on the Ladd motion substituting the "filled milk" bill for the subsidy. If the subsidy's opponents win, the filibuster would end.

Administration forces, however, were still confident. Senator Jones declared there would be no deviation in his plan for forcing the Senate into a record vote on the subsidy. He still predicted the administration would carry enough votes to write the subsidy on the statute books of the nation.

From the ranks of the filibusters came a counter forecast of victory.

"We forced the administration to hold out the olive branch last night," said Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, leader of the insurgents.

"That was first blood and we have more in store for them. After Senator Reed finishes his lesson on the international situation I shall open a school on co-operation."

"From two text books, I shall read a lesson of 752,000 words to the Senate and when I finish Senator McKellar of Tennessee, will read a lesson on filibustering, as delivered in the Senate eight years ago by Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah. Senator Borah then will have a lesson on the Russian situation. The lessons will continue until Congress adjourns or the subsidy is discarded."

In the night session the filibusters suddenly changed their tactics after nine hours of speechmaking. While Senator Reed, Democrat, started a series of roll calls were resisted during which it was necessary to compel attendance of absent Senators by use of the sergeant-at-arms.

The sergeant-at-arms broke up a dinner party at the home of Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican of New Jersey, in his search for Senators and the appearance later of the Frelinghuysen party, Sen. Nelson, Republican of Minnesota and Senator McCumber, Republican of North Dakota, on the floor in evening clothes caused the Senators to start a round of hand clapping and waving of handkerchiefs.

The roll calls continued for an hour and a half, until Senators were exhausted from being recalled to the Senate chamber. Reed, who had projected them, then resumed his address with the subtle comment, "after these wholly unnecessary interruptions, I shall continue."

It then became apparent that another roll call would reveal scores of Senators hidden away for the night. Less than an hour later, Jones proposed the truce, although previously the administration had defeated three attempts to force a recess.

SON OF PRETENDER TO PORTUGAL HIGH OFFICE SUCCEUMBS

New York, Feb. 21.—Prince Miguel de Braganza, oldest son of the pretender to the throne of Portugal, died at the home of his father in law William Rhineland Stewart, this morning of double pneumonia.

The prince was stricken with influenza two weeks ago when he and the princess were visiting her father. He was so much better early this week that the princess went to Newport to inspect the Moorings, their country place there.

Count Lasczelo, Hungarian minister and a lifelong friend of the prince, hurried to his bedside from Washington when he learned of the prince's illness.

The marriage of Prince De Braganza and Miss Anita Stewart took place in Tulloch castle, Scotland. After royal opposition had been smoothed out by the late Emperor Francis—Joseph of Austria, who raised the American girl to the rank of princess after the wedding.

The prince first came to this country about a year ago, after serving through the war as an officer in the German army.

The prince was a grandson of King Miguel, who resigned in Portugal from 1828 to 1834.

VANDERVOORT SUE IN WILMINGTON BY OFFICER'S WIDOW

Suit for $25,000 damages was filed in Clinton County Common Pleas Court Wednesday morning against Louis Vandervoort, 21, confessed slayer of Patrolman Emory McCreight by the policeman's widow.

Alleging that Vandervoort by his confession to second degree murder and subsequent sentence to the State Penitentiary was responsible for the death of her husband, February 14, 1922, the widow asks a judgment in the sum of $25,000 for damages because of the act. The suit was filed by Hayes and Barnes, attorneys for Mrs. McCreight.

The suit filed in Wilmington parallels the damage action filed in Common Pleas Court here last week by Attorneys C. L. Darlington and F. L. Johnson representing Mrs. Mary Matthews, widow of Elvas Matthews, Xenia policeman, who was killed last December 21, for which Vandervoort is also charged.

Both suits present an interesting legal angle. Should the case filed here come to trial there would be an interesting legal development of whether Vandervoort could be subpoenaed from behind the bars of the State Penitentiary to appear at the trial. In order to prove grounds for damages, the plaintiff's attorneys would have to show the jury proof that Vandervoort had killed Matthews as charged in the petition. If the jury returns a judgment against Vandervoort and for the plaintiff, it will practically have to find Vandervoort guilty of the crime, although the verdict in the civil suit would actually have no bearing on the criminal case, and Vandervoort would have to be tried on the criminal charge before he could be punished.

In the Wilmington case, the youth has confessed to the murder and these question will not be relevant, although the question of getting Vandervoort to appear at the trial, presents the same interesting light.

Announcement of Judge Davis' ruling marked the opening of today's session at Corner's hearing. Corner is charged with "riotous conspiracy."

GERRYMANDERING PLANS IF PASSED EFFECT CHANGES

Greene County will be changed from the Seventh to the Sixth Congressional district, if either one of two gerrymandering bills introduced in the State Senate on Tuesday, and said to be backed by Republican leaders, passes.

Bills introduced by Senator Bender of Cuyahoga County and by Senator Price of Summit County seek re-appointment of representation from Ohio in the House of Representatives, and although slightly varying they are in many particulars the same. Greene County is placed in the Sixth man-elect Charles Brand of Urbana was named last fall to represent, having been split up.

Logan and Union Counties, as well as Greene, are removed from the Seventh district, and Pickaway, Ross and Pike added to it. Greene is placed in the Sixth, Union, in the eighth and Logan in the Fourth District. Butler County, strongly Democratic, is taken to the Sixth, where Republican leaders hope the strong Republican majority will overcome the Democratic vote. Scioto formerly in the Sixth, has been annexed to the Tenth District.

The youths failed to appear at Spring Hill School for their classes Monday morning and when they were still missing Monday evening Police were notified. Chief of Police M. B. Graham telephoned West Union, where one of the boys has relatives

Monday night, but no trace of them had been seen there. Relatives believe they may have started to walk to Florida.

AND IT IS "MY" COUNTRY.

In a speech before the American Electric Railway Association Secretary Fall of the Department of the Interior gave what was regarded as his "swan song" in view of his approaching retirement from the Cabinet on March 4. Mr. Fall took the opportunity to make some observations on public life and of conditions confronting the United States.

And, as you read, we suggest you ask yourself: "Of what other country on this round globe can this be said." Here is an extract from Mr. Fall's speech:

"Incidentally, I want to say that I know one country and one Government that have been acting on plain, simple advice in the last two years, aiming to get its people and its plant back at work, trying to increase its income and reduce its outgo, seeking to insure itself against wars and the menace of wars, endeavoring to accumulate real capital instead of fiat money, trying to lessen the burden of armaments, finding tasks—useful, worth-while tasks—for people who formerly were idle, encouraging trade and industry, seeking to open new markets, refusing to get entangled with others who have not found that the war is over.

"That country is the United States of America, and it has been setting a mighty good example of quiet, humdrum, safe and sensible management of a Nation's affairs.

"Nothing spectacular has been done, but taxes are lower, the danger of a war in the Pacific has been removed, four or five million workers who two years ago were out of jobs, are now in jobs, and more labor is needed than can be found; the cost of living hasn't been much reduced, but the number of people who can pay that cost has been increased powerfully; the huge Government debt has not been reduced much, but its increase has been stopped and we can see ahead the time when its progressive reduction will be a fixed part of the national program.

"The labor question has not been permanently settled and, thank God, it never will be—this side the millennium, but it has been changed to a question of finding enough work to keep people busy and fed, and, finally, everybody knows that right now the country is facing a period of great industrial activity and universal prosperity."

BUREAU REFORM.

For a generation it has been apparent that the Federal departments and bureaus should be reorganized, reformed and re-ordinated. We have been undertaking many new ventures in bureaucracy and paternalism, setting up new bureaus, boards and commissions as they were demanded and loosely hooking them to existing departments or permitting them to exist independently. There has been a growing confusion with a waste of money and energy and much overlapping of effort.

One of the Harding campaign pledges was that this condition should be remedied. He secured from his prospective Cabinet members the promise that they would support a reorganization plan in its final stages. That plan, prepared by Walter F. Brown, of Ohio, at the direction of the White House, has been placed before the Joint Congressional Committee on Reorganization and will be laid before the Sixty-eighth Congress.

The most striking proposal in the Administration plan is the wiping out of the War and Navy Departments as such and the creation in their place of a Department of National Defense. The new department would do the work now done by both. All non-military work such as river and harbor projects, will be handed over to other departments. This change was stoutly resisted by Secretaries Denby and Weeks.

The number of Cabinet officers will not be lessened, as a new Department of Education and Public Welfare is to reach out and take from other departments all educational and school work of the Governments and all such institutions as soldiers' homes, the Health Bureau, the Veterans' Bureau and the Federal prisons. As few as possible independent bureaus and boards are to be left outside the departments.

In the main the Administration plan is aimed at greater efficiency in governing, the shorting of red tape and the placing and centralizing of responsibility. It should result in great savings through the elimination of overlapped efforts of the many bureaus; but its greatest value would appear to be in getting the national work done.

PRESIDENT HARDING PLANNING FOR A REAL SUMMER REST.

President Harding is going to make his proposed trip to Florida a real vacation in the event that nothing happens between now and March 5 to prevent his going.

The Chief Executive does not want to make a lot of speeches or to be the center of interest while in the South. Several delegations have been told as much when they called at the White House to see if the President would attend this or that ceremonial. What the President wants both for Mrs. Harding and himself, is a real rest after close confinement in Washington and the cares of office.

One feature will be a houseboat trip such as he took in 1921 between the election and inauguration. The Frelinghuysen houseboat is once more to be placed at the disposal of the Hardings, and in that way they hope even to avoid the discomforts of presidential popularity that are encountered at hotels.

A houseboat trip will be fine for the President and Mrs. Harding but tough on the newspapermen who are supposed to keep in touch with him every day. Several correspondents in Washington look back with considerable pain on the days when they were chasing the Harding houseboat; and but for the fact that once in while the Presidential conveyance would get stuck on mud bank, they probably would not have been able to keep up with their assignment.

The world's largest oil well, known as Larosa No. 2, is located near Maracaibo, Venezuela. This well produces 120,000 barrels of oil daily.

The suggestion that all automobile drivers in Washington, D. C., be bonded to the amount of $3000 has been abandoned as impractical.

AND THAT'S THAT

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The Springfield Southern and Cincinnati railroad company was incorporated in Columbus Thursday afternoon with a nominal stock of $25,000. Behind the filing of articles of incorporation is a gigantic traction scheme having as its object the operation of several traction lines radiating from Springfield. Right of way for 75 miles of road have already been secured and cover roads from Springfield, Clifton Gorge, Wilmington, Washington, C. H., and other neighboring county seats. At Clifton the company expects to erect a big summer hotel. Mrs. Frank L. Connable is now vice-president and treasurer of the Chattanooga Power Company. The Xenia Gas Company ran out of coal yesterday and that accounts for the short supply of gas which was felt in parts of the city last night. However two cars of gas coal arrived today. The physicians have all been on the go all the week attending to numerous cases of grip.

CHOOSING GOOD CORSETS

Do you really need corsets? Most women don't. My belief is that most women put on corsets not to mould nor support the figure, not to improve its shape, but simply because the shops offer them and other people wear them.

Proof of this is that they generally buy any style that pleases their fancy or their purses, with little thought as to whether it is the type of corset they may need.

Corsets are made in stock sizes and human bodies aren't, so no amount of lacing and taking in will ever make them conform actually to the shape of the woman's figure. The result is that they reduce all figures to a certain monotonous likeness varying only in bulk and exactly the same in contour.

The greatest charm of the feminine figure is the variety and delicacy of its curves, in short its individuality. What a shame, for instance, to take the broad shouldered, flat and boyish figure and give it a small waist and round hips merely because a pair of corsets forces it into such a shape.

What a pity to take the suppleness out of any figure and give it the stiffness and rigid curves of a well-filled pair of corsets.

What a pity to take away the elasticity of any figure by putting the waist and hip muscles in prison, which is what corsets does.

In short, what a pity to wear corsets! There are, however, exceptions. If you are a fat you had better compress the fleshy curves into a semblance of even stiff youthfulness, but if you had best, of course, reduce. If you are old and inflexible you will sacrifice little and you may gain better lines by corseting the figure. But in any case your corsets should be lightly boned, well made and as expensive as you can afford.

SOMEbody TO DO FOR

Nothing has been proved more certainly than that it is impossible for anyone to live to himself alone. We all need somebody to do something for.

The pursuit of loneliness is the pursuit of selfishness. Somewhere there is somebody sure to need us very much. And it is upon our decision to hunt out and find this person that rests the possibility of our happiness.

With no one to love, no one to run errands for, no one to wait upon in time of disappointment and loss, no one to give gifts to, life shrivels at its base.

For life, in any measure of abundance, is to love and to give.

And then, we need to have somebody to think about—somebody to fill our thoughts and to inspire our deeds.

He who does for himself exclusively, who has no time for his friends, who has no disposition to divide with others, how very poor he shall be some day, when least he expects that poverty of mind and soul.

Search for happiness how you will. If it does not lead to beauty and contentment through someone else, it will disappear as the fog or the frost beneath the sun's heat.

Keep doing something for someone else.

And the larger the number you are privileged to do for, that much greater shall be your reward of happiness.

TO SOUND OUT FRENCH POLICY ON DEBT TO U. S.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Elliott Wadsworth, secretary of the world war debt commission and assistant secretary of the treasury, sailed today for Europe with instructions to ascertain what France purposes to do about her debt owed the United States.

This was learned authoritatively at the treasury department simultaneously with the announcement from the state department that Mr. Wadsworth was leaving officially to take part in the Paris conference dealing with the status of American claims for the cost of the troops on the Rhine. Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium also will be represented at the conference.

Although the announced official purpose of his trip is to deal with the cost of the Rhine troops, Mr. Wadsworth will devote the greater part of his attention to making a comprehensive study of the French ability to make payments on their debt, approximately $3,000,000,000. While not authorized to negotiate formally, he is expected to ascertain from French officials some authoritative statement as to what the Paris government intends to do with reference to its obligation.

President Harding and his advisers will then determine what formal demands should be made on France and what terms for settling the debt should be proposed by the American commission.

Mr. Wadsworth's investigation of financial conditions in European countries will not be restricted to France. He is expected to make a later voyage for the purpose of studying situations in Italy and Belgium, in order that the American government may have accurate information on which to base pressure for debt settlements with those nations.

The final step in congressional ratification of the British debt settlement will be taken today. The bill then will go to the white house, where President Harding will sign it without delay. This action was made certain when the house ways and means committee unanimously voted to instruct Chairman Fordney to move in the house that the senate amendments to the legislation be concurred in. Chairman Fordney made the motion immediately after the reading of the journal, and the engrossed copy of the measure may reach the president before night.

Representative Burton, member of the debt commission and co-author of the bill, appeared before the committee and recommended concurrence in the amendments. He said there were some objections to the senate changes, but that in view of the danger of further delay and the impending adjournment, he thought it the wiser course not to take any course that would send the bill back to the senate.

TINY REVOLVER CONFISCATED AS BOY IS ARRESTED

When Frank Chesser, 17, was arrested by Patrolman Fred Jones Sunday morning on a charge of twice burglarizing the S. Englinman store, West Main Street, police confiscated a small revolver.

Out of a cabinet full of revolvers and pistols of all sizes, makes and descriptions confiscated by Police and held at headquarters, the revolver with which Chesser had armed himself, is considered the smallest and most unique specimen.

The revolver is known as a "baby hammerless" and is a tiny affair, shooting a .22 calibre short cartridge. The barrel is extremely short, including the cylinder, and the handle so small that it is almost impossible to hold. The gun is hammerless and there is no trigger guard, the trigger itself being hinged so that it folds up out of the way. The trigger pull is like that of a .45 calibre revolver, however, belying the diminutive size of the pistol.

The so-called weapon looks as if it were made to hang on the watch-chain or to wear as a watch fob, but there is no ring in the end of it. And they say it actually shoots.

CRIPPLED KIDDIES ARE EXAMINED AT CLINIC ON MONDAY

In connection with the Rotary Club's survey of all crippled children of the county, which is being made by the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross, with an aim of having every child examined, seven crippled children, from various parts of the county, met Dr. James Walker, orthopedic surgeon, of Dayton, at the Red Cross room in the Court House, Monday, for thorough examination.

The children were among the many crippled tots of the county who are being offered corrective measures. In case their parents cannot afford to pay for the treatment, through the contributions of the Rotary Club.

The clinic was conducted by Dr. Walker, assisted by Dr. R. Kent Finley, Miss Helen Evers, Red Cross nurse, Miss Jennie Moffett, of the Social Service League.

Two of the children at the examination Monday were from Spring

Valley, one from Yellow Springs, and four from Xenia, four of the cases being Social Service League cases, and three under the care of the Red Cross. Two of the seven children were examined for the first time.

Two of the children were placed in casts, one recommended for operations, one needed corrective shoes, one was recommended for continuation of the present treatment. Plaster casts were molded on two of the children, on the foot and leg of a child of seven years, and on the body of a child of one and one-half years.

Through the courtesy of Miss Elsie Canby, the room of the court stenographer was used for the clinic also. Two of the children who had no means of reaching the clinic, were brought to Xenia in Red Cross car.

DIES IN CLEVELAND

Xenia friends of Mrs. Alice Boyd Carpenter, of Cleveland, widow of Judge A. G. Carpenter, have received word of her death which occurred Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. McCrea in Cleveland.

Mrs. Carpenter was a member of the class of 1873 of the former Xenia College and was a student during the presidency of Prof. William Smith. While a student here she made many friendships with local people and kept them up throughout her life. She frequently visited with Mrs. H. H. Eavey, a friend of her college days. Mrs. Carpenter is survived by two daughters and one son, Mrs. McCrea, Mrs. L. F. Body and Robert F. Carpenter, all of Cleveland, and by eight grand children. She also leaves one brother, Mr. Robert Boyd, president of the London Exchange Bank at London, Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. Byers, all of London. Her husband preceded her in death four years ago.

Burial was made in Cleveland.

PROFIT FOR CLOTHIER ONE CENT ON DOLLAR

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—The average profit of a retail clothier on a $1 investment is 1 cent, declared Irving Paul, business analyst of Chicago, in an address before the Ohio A. E. T. and Furnishers' Association, in session here, Paul, who was former secretary of the joint congress.

lational committee of agricultural inquiry, backed up his statement by reading excerpts from a report of the committee.

"To be exact," he said, "the profit of a retail clothing merchant on a $1 investment is 1.13 cents."

"When a man pays a retailer $2 for a suit of underwear the customer should remember that he is not only paying the retailer, but also a myriad of other people who make the garment."

Living in modern small flats also came in for its share of discussion. Mr. Paul declared that "our forefathers purchased commodities in wholesale lots and stored them in cellars and homes—but there is only room for $2 worth of groceries in the modern kitchenette flat."

The many small purchases and many deliveries all add to the cost," he concluded.

TOO MANY MINES AND MINERS IN U. S.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—There are too many bituminous coal mines in the United States and in consequence too many miners.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guarantee to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ton about Friday to appear at this technical hearing and will be granted his release from there.

Vandervoort carried a gun most of the time, he told the reporter. He said that after he killed McCright he felt some remorse but "not a great deal." He was more sorry for the widow, he said. He said he knew about the suit filed against him for $25,000 damages by Mrs. Mary Matthews, widow of the slain Xenia policeman, but said little about it, beyond denying that he was guilty of the Xenia murder.

ROBBED FOR THE THRILL. Vandervoort robbed for the thrill of it, he told the News-Journal reporter Wednesday. Craving excitement, he found an outlet for his feelings in this manner and it was for the love of the excitement that he robbed stores of articles which he never made use of. "If I had been in the army and gone to war I would have probably had my craving for excitement satisfied," Vandervoort told the reporter. "But I was not in the army and so I got my excitement by robbing places."

Greene County authorities have made no statement so far concerning what action would be taken against Vandervoort for the Matthews murder, but it is believed the Grand Jury will be asked to indict him for the crime at the May session. The indictment would then be ready if he should obtain his release from the penitentiary.

Cincinnati, Feb. 21.—"He's free!" After eight months of untiring and unwavering devotion, Mrs. Leroy McKinney, 1968 Rachel street, Cincinnati, last night sobbed happily when a brief message brought tidings that she had awaited confidently while the rest of the world refused to believe.

Her husband, convicted of the murder of Patrolman Emory McCright of Wilmington, O., is to leave the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus as soon as Governor A. Victor Donahay can sign a pardon. The real story of the officer, Louis Vandervoort, son of a Greene County farmer, has confessed that he fired the fatal shot during an attempted hold up February 14, 1922, rivaling the exploits of Deadwood Dick.

McKinney, 29 years old, was sentenced in the Clinton county common pleas court at Wilmington to pass the remainder of his life in the penitentiary, but his wife, young and pretty, refused to believe. Her husband was far from the type of young man from which bandits are recruited. He was a student at the university of Chicago for two years and in court his appearance was the opposite of the ordinary criminal.

The young wife displayed a courage that rivaled any in fiction, sustained by positive knowledge that "Roy" was with her when the shot that killed the Wilmington patrolman was fired. Brushing aside tears, she explained to skeptical neighbors that "he'll be freed some day."

Local Soldier Champion Rifle Shot On The Rhine

After four years on the Rhine, during which time he became champion rifle shot of all the allied soldiers in that sector, Perry Swindler, son of James Swindler of this city, is back in the United States, and located with his outfit at Ft. Moultrie, South Carolina.

Private Swindler is clerk of Company K, Eight Infantry, which has been billeted at Ft. Moultrie, after returning from four years' service with the American Expeditionary Forces stationed at Coblenz. He returned to this country with the last contingent of American soldiers arriving first at Savannah, Ga. Feb. 7. There many of the soldiers, mostly those with wives, were landed, and the St. Mihiel then continued around the coast to Ft. Moultrie, where the fitting for the time, she played on her phonograph the familiar "Song at Twilight."

A knock started her, for visitors had been few during her long flight to free her "Roy." A messenger boy handed her a telegram. A glance at the message rewarded her for eight months of unswerving allegiance.

"I think I'll have a nice big steak for supper tomorrow night," she gulped. "Roy does love steak."

Columbus, Feb. 21.—"Well, we all have our troubles!" This philosophical comment was made by Clarence LeRoy McKinney in office of Warden Thomas at the Ohio State penitentiary yesterday when a reporter told him he soon would be free from prison where he has served five months of a life sentence for murder he did not commit.

Injustice of his sentence was a certainty yesterday when Louis Vandervoort, Jamestown, confessed to the crime for which McKinney was held, the killing of Special Officer Emory McCright in Wilmington, February 14, 1922.

"I've always had a feeling I'd get out," McKinney said when, as No. 51,210, he was summoned from his work at the loom mill to receive the news. "I haven't felt so very bad because I knew I wasn't guilty. I've felt more sorry for my wife and my father and mother than for myself—the humiliation was hard on them."

"A life sentence isn't a very pleasant thing, but I've had hope. I'd like to see them as anxious to get me out of here now, as they were anxious to get me in. My father and I have spent $60,000 to date for lawyers' fees and for the appeal. I think the state should reimburse us for that."

Warden Thomas said of McKinney, "I've been in the business for 19 years, but I've never come across such a case before. The fellow is the greatest philosopher I ever have seen."

Marvelous, indeed, was the self-control exhibited by the 29-year-old boy regarding such vital news to him. Only by the twitching of his face did he display any emotion. The manner in which he responded to questions and rehearsed details of the case revealed the thought he has given to it since his imprisonment; but his nervous system apparently is unaffected.

"One reason I've felt sure my innocence could be proved," he stated cheerfully, "was that I heard the prosecutor said he didn't believe I was guilty. Will you tell me if that's true, warden, just to satisfy my curiosity?"

Complying with the request of a wrongfully convicted man, Warden Thomas read the statement of S. L. Gregory, prosecuting attorney. The latter asserted he doubted strongly whether recognition was possible under such circumstances as Henry Adams, chief witness, claimed to have recognized McKinney.

The statement of Judge Frank M. Cleveland, on the other hand, maintained the judge was certain of McKinney's guilt.

McKinney declared Judge Cleveland was unfair but as he did so manifested much indignation but no bitterness.

"How could a man have a chance," he asked, "all my lawyer's objections were overruled and all the prosecutor's objections were sustained, regardless of what they were. We proved by 21 people we were in Cincinnati on the night of the murder in Wilmington."

ST. BRIGIDS TEAMS DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL
LEGION FIVE TO RETURN TO COURT WITH TIGERS FRIDAY
IN DAYTON TUESDAY—THREE GAMES FRIDAY

LEGION BACK IN ACTION
By WONES

Fans who like good professional basketball will get just what they are looking for at the Rink Thursday night when the John Roan Post team which has been absent from the court for several weeks will tangle with the Springfield Tigers.

It will be remembered that it was the Tigers that handed the locals a drubbing on the Rink court last year by a 28 to 12 score, and they also defeated the Chicago Defenders this season at Springfield by several points. So for the Clark County lads have only dropped one game and that was to the fast Evanston Y. M. C. A. of Illinois and it was a very close game. The locals also took the short end of the score when they played the Evanston bunch.

But since that time the Legion has re-organized and under the new manager Dean Mohr has secured some athletes as Winters, Duff, Sol Butler, and J. Anderson. With this bunch on the floor they have defeated some of the best combinations going including the New York Defenders, Baltimore Athenians, Kenton and also won the title of Colored Champs when they toppled over the Loendi Club of Pittsburgh. On the other hand the bunch from Springfield does not let any grass grow under its feet and always gives opponents a stiff argument.

The Tigers handed the Morris Brown Club of Atlanta, Georgia a terrific lacing and with many stars in their lineup they count on giving the local team the same thing they have dished out to the rest of their opponents.

They will present their usual lineup of Morris, Lee and Death at the forwards, Greene or Pearle will do the jumping, while Spears who played a few games with the Legion will probably play at one guard with Shaffer or Hamilton at the other.

The locals will use Winters and Joe Anderson, the local flash, at the forwards Duff at center. Sol Butler and Ward at the guards, Stewart will also get into the game. The contest will start at 8:30, with L. Rachford in charge of the whistle. There will be a dance after the game with the Synco Six of Springfield furnishing the music.

ST. BRIGIDS WINS AND LOSES
By WONES

The St. Brigid High School basketball team lost to the fast St. Marys Marians of Dayton on the latter court by a 54 to 25 score Tuesday night.

The locals did not have much success in locating the net and this was just the reason that they lost, their passwork being good while their defense was just left at times. The Saints were handicapped also by the floor being of the cigar box type.

The Dayton bunch fought pretty hard for their victory as the game was not as one-sided as the score would indicate.

In the preliminary the St. Brigid Juniors defeated the St. Marys Monitors which team defeated the locals some time ago and thereby got revenge handing the Dayton lads the short end of a 20 to 14 score. The locals were right and with Guidlay and G. Herr hitting the net quite frequently they soon piled up a lead that meant defeat for the Monitors.

Guidlay was the first to score with a fielder and Russell came back and knotted the count and Herr turned in a long shot that gave the local team an edge. Baskets by Graham, Herr and Guidlay ran the total up to 14 as the half ended. The Dayton gang having 6 points while the locals were just 8 points better.

The second half the St. Marys bunch came back fighting hard to stave off defeat but the 8 point lead that the St. Brigid lads had in the first period caused their downfall. The second half the Monitors scored eight points while the locals added six to their score. Guidlay, Herr and Graham played well for Xenia while the rest of the team also played good ball.

EAST HIGH CHALLENGES.

The East High School basketball squad, which has fairly crowned itself with victories over some of the best teams in the State, including Dayton Hi Y., Springfield Nationals, Columbus Hi Y., Wilberforce Academy, Columbus Champions and the South Side Merchants of Xenia is fighting for more worlds to conquer.

The squad is especially desirous of meeting the Greenfield quintet which seems to be blazing its trail with athletic glory. East High would also be pleased to have Central High of Xenia and Springfield High look upon this challenge with favor.

AUTOS SET FOR COLLEGIANS
By WONES

Three games will be staged at new High School gym Thursday night, and each contest looms up to be a tight affray.

In the first game the Merchants will tangle with the Famous Five while the second game will bring together the Presto Lites and the Le-farrets. Both these teams are from Dayton and will no doubt put up an interesting affair.

In the third game of the evening the Famous Autos will take on the crack Medway Collegians, Champions of both Clark and Greene Counties. This game ought to be a hummer as both teams are the bitterest of rivals. Coach Hallers lads have planned that they will send the Medway bunch away with the short end of the score but to do this will require a very skillful bunch of basketballers and that is just what the Autos are. The first game will get under way at 7 o'clock with a competent referee in charge of the games.

THREE GAMES FRIDAY

There will be three games on tap at the Central High court Friday night according to the card arranged by John R. Beacham, school athletic manager.

The court menu will include the clash between the Central High five and the Springfield High as the main dish of the evening and two preliminaries will work up interest toward the big game.

The first preliminary will see the Rob'n Hoods and the Orient Hill Reds in action while the semi-windup will see the South Detroit Street Merchants, leaders of the Municipal League, contending with the team from Miami-Jacobs Business College in Dayton.

APPEAL BUS CASE FROM CITY POLICE COURT ON ERROR

Clarence Stoner, operator of a motor bus line between Xenia and Dayton is plaintiff-in-error, in a case filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday against the City of Xenia, on appeal from decision of Judge E. D. Smith, in Police Court.

The bus company is subject to an ordinance passed by the City Commission sometime ago regulating the operation of busses, including the license fee to be paid, and the company hopes to make a test case of the ordinance, it is understood. Appealing from the Police Court decision handed down February 5, 1923, the plaintiff-in-error claims the lower court erred in that its finding was against the weight of the evidence and contrary to law; that demurrer to the affidavit should have been sustained for the reason that the affidavit was insufficient, defective and did not set forth sufficient facts to constitute an offense under the laws of Ohio; that the ordinance itself is unconstitutional, unreasonable, illegal and void, that the motion to dismiss should have been sustained and that the motion in arrest of judgment should have been sustained.

Attorneys for the plaintiff in error are F. W. Krebbs and Strother B. Jackson, of Dayton, while City Solicitor J. A. Finney represents the city in the action.

MUST SUPPORT CHILD.

Calvin Dimmitt will have to pay Helen Milburn $150 in lump and $2 a week for the support of the child of which she claims he is the father, according to a decision in Common Pleas Court. A jury recently found Dimmitt guilty at the end of the third trial of the case. The Court overruled the motion for a new trial and fixed bond in the sum of $500 to insure payment of the money.

APPEALED FROM PROBATE COURT.

Appealing from the decision of Judge J. Carl Marshall in Probate Court, an action in the matter of the exceptions to the account of Arthur Hamilton, guardian of Hattie A. Smith, an incompetent, has been filed in Common Pleas Court. The exceptions of Lucy Allen and William Hamilton to the account were sustained in Probate Court and notice of appeal given by Arthur Hamilton.

AMERICA MAINTAINS NEUTRAL ATTITUDE

Washington, Feb. 21.—Determination of President Harding and secretary of State Hughes to obtain from any action at this time which might be construed as "intervention" in the Ruhr situation was re-emphasized today in the wake of yesterday's discussion of American policy in the British parliament.

Veiled intimations during the debate that informal "conventions" have been going on between Washington and London concerning the possibilities of joint British-American action utterly failed of confirmation today.

THAW TO VISIT MOTHER.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 21.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, was granted a temporary release from the Pennsylvania State Hospital for the Insane here today by Judge J. Willis Martin, in Common Pleas Court.

Thaw, accompanied by a special guard, will be permitted to visit his mother in Pittsburgh, but must return to the institution on March 3rd.

Perhaps the most positive proof of a woman's cooking skill is her ability of making a good fruit cake. For generations the fruit cake has marked the pinnacle of culinary art. This kind of cake need not be over-expensive to be delicious. Here is my own original recipe, presented in a "just how" form to help the inexperienced housekeeper:

Dark Fruit Cake: Cream together, in a medium-sized bowl, one cup of light brown sugar and one-fourth cup of lard or butter. Stir into this three unbeaten eggs and mix well; then add one-third cup of sweet milk in which one-third teaspoon of baking soda has been dissolved, and also add one-half cup of molasses. Again mix vigorously. Now stir together two cups of bread flour and two teaspoons of baking powder. Add this flour-mixture to the other ingredients, in the bowl, and then stir in one-fourth teaspoon each of ground all-spice and cloves, one-half teaspoon each of ground cinnamon and nutmeg, one teaspoon of lemon extract, one cup of dried currants, one cup of dried seedless raisins (the large ones) and one-fourth cup of finely-shaved citron peel. Turn this stiff batter into a bread pan (any pan which measures eight and one-half inches by four and one-half inches on the bottom will do) and slip the pan into a good hot oven. In all, the cake must bake two hours. During this time the oven heat must be decreased from high to low (that is, it must be quite hot when the cake is put in and continue so for the first half hour, then be reduced gradually). When baked, the cake should be turned out of its pan at once to cool and dry.

Nowadays "cake racks" are sold in the stores, to cool hot cakes on. But many of us cannot afford these ideal culinary helps, so must improvise our own cake racks out of removable, barred oven-shelves, inverted wire dish-drainers, etcetera. When cooled, the cake must be wrapped in white linen and kept in a cool, dry place in a cake box. It will ripen as the weeks go by. If properly done, this cake will be two and one-half inches high, after baking.

URGES ABOLITION OF RAIL BOARD

Chicago, Feb. 21.—An appeal for a return to the "family negotiations" between the railroads and their employees was made by William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen, a visitor in Chicago today. Mr. Lee addressed the Western Railway Club—an organization composed chiefly of railroad operating officials—last night.

Lee advocated the abolition of the U. S. Railroad Labor Board. "Railroad employees," he said, "do not believe in enforced submission of their difference to any court."

He deplored the tendency toward government regulation of railroads and expressed disapproval of President Harding's suggestion that a new division of the interstate commerce commission be created to handle railway labor disputes.

THREE INJURED IN FIRE.

Columbus, Feb. 20.—Three persons were injured in a fire which destroyed the interior of a residence. The injured are: Jesse Belcher, 75; Mrs. Charles Appel, 42, and William Willis, 34 years, Mrs. Appel's grandson. Mrs. Appel and Belcher, her uncle, in addition to being burned, were hurt when they jumped from second story windows to escape being trapped in the burning house.

TAILOR MAKES

VALUABLE FIND

"After spending $900 for medicine and doctors in four years without getting any benefit for stomach trouble and bloating I was induced by my druggist to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and must say that a $1 bottle has done me $500 worth of good." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. adv

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XIV

As Ann watched the others pitching quoits, playing hand ball and so on she caught several glances in her direction from Grace, usually after Dick had stopped to ask how she felt.

She thought the glances malevolent, yet tried to believe it was her imagination. Dick was frankly anxious over her accident and that helped her to think Bessie was wrong; that it had not been design that had placed the stick in her way.

"We'll fix the back seat so you can be more comfortable," Ned said when it was time to start on the long ride home. "Bessie can ride in front with me."

"Oh, I'll go back with Dick!" Ann replied quickly. "You will be more comfortable with Ned, Ann," Dick said, "and I have promised to let Grace drive me home. She says she can drive better than I can. She'll have to demonstrate it before I'll believe her."

Ann said no more. Her ankle still throbbed painfully, and she knew she would be far more comfortable in the tonneau of Ned's car than in the road ster.

But as she caught the glance of triumph Grace cast at her, she wished she had insisted, had refused to go with Ned and Bessie.

Ned drove carefully so as not to jar Ann and when they reached the Belden ranch, Dick and Grace were waiting on the porch.

Dick lifted Ann carefully from the car, insisted she must not walk, and carried her into the house. Ned called to Grace to hurry, and she calling: "Good Night, Dick," started down the walk, then as if she just remembered Ann's existence she called:

"I gave Dick the time of his life coming home, Ann! Hope your ankle will be all right soon!"

Was the girl absolutely heartless? Was she wicked? Or didn't she mean anything by her actions?

To Ann's loyal soul the girl was an enigma. To deliberately make love to another woman's husband, to try and break up a home seemed to her a thing so far beyond the pale that she was constantly trying to persuade herself it could not be; that she wronged Grace who was just a silly thoughtless girl, so selfish she nei-er thought or cared if others were hurt.

Her ankle kept her housed for a couple of days, days that Grace spent in the orchards with Dick, or with Ned, while Bessie ministered to Ann's comfort.

"Dick was going into San Bernardino and Grace had declared she was going with him."

She had some shopping to do and it was her chance.

"He won't drink even if he meets men he knows if Grace is with him," Ann said to herself.

He seldom went as far as San Bernardino, was not as apt to meet the nearby ranchers there, yet Ann never failed to worry when he was away from the ranch. She hated the thought of his being all day with Grace, but her lame ankle made it impossible for her to go with them.

"Don't expect us until you see us!" Grace called gayly as they drove away. Ann had asked Dick not to stay late, as she felt uneasy at being alone when it was hard for her to move about, and he had promised.

Ann was not quite happy thinking of the long day Dick was to be with Grace Edmunds. Yet she had perfect faith in her husband. To her, marriage meant more than a few words said by a clergyman, tying two people together to be untied because of some slight cause; it meant a permanent union: "Those whom God hath joined together" was no empty phrase to her and she believed Dick felt and believed as she did. But he was a gay, fun-loving fellow, and like most men easily flattered. She didn't quite trust Grace, but she didn't really doubt her—as to her morality. She was fond of men's society, had often declared she wasn't a "woman's woman," that women bored her. She was beautiful, loved flattery and disliked domesticity. So Ann thought of her as she stayed alone all the long hours, mending, doing whatever she could about the house without hurting her ankle.

As the afternoon waned she went out upon the porch to watch for them. They would be home soon now, she said to herself. But hour after hour passed and still Dick did not come. Could something have happened to them? It was striking midnight when she heard the flivver and a moment afterward Dick came in laden with parcels.

"I didn't forget anything this time, Ann. Grace took good care I shouldn't. He kissed her, then laid his parcels on the table."

"Didn't you forget your promise, dear?" Ann asked gently.

"What promise?"

"To come home early."

"By jove, I did promise you, didn't I? But when we finished the shopping Grace insisted I take her to a motion picture, and afterward said she was hungry, so we had dinner at the hotel. It was so late I took her home instead of having her come in."

"Did you have a good time?"

"Dandy! That girl's some good company. I'll tell anyone who asks. But I'm sorry I forgot my promise. Ann! It absolutely slipped my mind."

GEORGE WASHINGTON

IN these days when international affairs are at the boiling point, we are apt to look backward to the Fathers. What would they do now? What would be Washington's advice? There's no telling; but we're sure he would bring calmness, sanity, and courage to the problems.

And any of us can do that; and if the whole world did that most of the problems would disappear. Our opinions—yours and ours—will probably not be asked about international affairs; but we can apply our judgment to things here at home, today.

So far as we can, we're making our business grow on that basis
